The Editor's column

Members of the Arlington Heights board of local improvements took the right stand when they authorized Attorney Thal to proceed with the widening of West Campbell st.

The objectors were basing their opposition upon the cost, not the improvement.

A delegation of Barrington businessmen came to Arlington Heights last week to look at those Dunton street lights. They may assume the entire cost of a similar installation in their town, securing the money by public subscription.

We read a certain well known Chicago newspaper every morning because it is a great publication, but an item on its front page Saturday which termed the late Norman Ross as a mere "disc jockey" was in our opinion hitting below the belt.

We have admired Norman Ross many years, listening to his worthwhile programs, his ready wit and always clean fun. We think he is a far more popular man than the speaker who bores listeners of a well known Saturday night program.

Ross was like one of us. He did not enjoy getting up in time for his 6:00 a.m. broadcast; he was not immune to traffic cops, and he had his morning coffee after he was on the job.

It appears this area is building churches as fast as schools, which is proof that our new residents are not only raising babies, but are church attendants. It they build the churches and raise the babies, the rest of us should not holler about the cost of the school buildings.

Edmund O'Brien, president of the new Arlington Heights Plan commission, told its members last Wednesday night that he considered a solution to the parking problem of first importance.

No one is going to dispute that statement, but if that commission and the village board crack that nut, a lot of "thumbs" are going to be hit.

An Arlington Heights traffic officer told us Saturday that the number of Arlington Heights shoppers is slowing up in spite of the increased population.

A shopkeeper backed up that statement with "buying in local stores is not keeping pace with the number of new residents."

Both blamed insufficient parking areas for the loss in business.

Kimball Hill advertised last week that it was closing out all present developments and would concentrate the coming two years on Rolling Meadows, expecting to build 1700 homes there within that period.

Will somebody tell us where those home owners are going to do their buying? Whether we like it or not, a real shopping center appears to be the only answer.

If the village of Palatine can afford to pay its mayor $1,000 a year, Arlington Heights can certainly afford to pay its mayor $1640 a year.

Arlington Heights village employees received raises totaling $10,000. The only exceptions are the village clerk's office, which still pays only $5,100, and the aldermen who will still receive a pittance of only $20 a month with no pay for extra meetings or overtime.

We hope those aldermen will get enough honor out of their position to make up for the money they do not get.

President Eisenhower has decided that some of the Republican campaign promises for a cut in taxes cannot be kept in the interest of a balanced budget.

Perhaps for the same reason promises of lower water rates made by both the Home and Citizens party in the recent Arlington Heights municipal election may not be possible. Of course, consumers can use less water.

We hope to be able to pass on to our readers next week the results obtained at a conference Wednesday evening between Cook county assessing machinery and the state's attorney's office, both of which realize the taxing bodies need the personal property tax money that they are not getting. Township assessors will be sitting in at the conference as well as the justices of the peace to whom are turned over the unpaid bills.

Our efforts two years ago to get local taxing bodies to sponsor such a conference were unavailing because, we suspect, there were some members of such boards who were "guilty." Our files show that some of those taxing bodies said, "What is the use?"

If State's Attorney Gutknecht means business, it will be interesting to learn what he is going to do to those fellows.

We hope Mr. O'Brien can get action. In a statement to a reporter this week, he gave priority rating to adequate parking, saying, "We feel that in addition to long range planning, we should attempt to work out an immediate solution or at least some improvement to the parking situation. With the advice and help of our townspeople, this should be accomplished. Parking is a priority problem on our agenda."

Seven persons were taken to St. Francis hospital last Saturday afternoon, after a near fatal accident at Rand road, two blocks southeast of Palatine road.

The three cars, two of which were taken to Arlington Fender & Body in Arlington Heights, were driven by Charles G. Buckzkowski, 1854 N. Talman; Robert Derichs, age 24, 4527 N. Ashland ave., and Thomas Bowen, 24, 10421 S. Emerald ave., all of Chicago.

Mr. Buczkowski told Cook county officers Tatsch and Mueller he was traveling northwest on Rand rd. when the car driven by Bowen suddenly collided with his car. At the same time the car driven by Derichs collided with Bowen's car.

Other passengers injured were Jean Derichs, 24; Joe Ann Cummings, 22, 1226 Isabella, Wilmette; John Kloche, 24, 823 S. Chester, Park Ridge; Robert Reno, 24, 7814 S. Halsted st., Chicago, and Jay Ostena Jr., 9801 Cook, Oak Lawn.

Minor Accidents Keep Police Officers Busy

Several minor accidents and complaints were handled by the Arlington Heights police department the past week end.

One complaint was made by Vernon Pingel, 422 S. Evergreen, who told police a driver traveling west on Central rd. cut him off at State rd., almost causing an accident. His two children slid off the back seat when he had to suddenly apply his brakes to avoid a collision.

The driver of the other auto was Ralph J. Quinn Jr., 15, of 1722 Nelson st., Chicago.

A parking lot accident occurred at the Big Freeze Sunday when John R. Wood, 3108 N. Drake, Chicago, backed into an auto belonging to Clarence Hagenow, Rt. 2, Palatine, which was parked in the lot. The right rear fender of Hagenow's auto was damaged.

Lenaye Gabel, 532 S. Belmont, was traveling east on Davis st. when an auto driven by Herman Behn, Rt. 1, Arlington Heights, pulled away from the curb at 109 E. Davis, and collided with her car. The Gabel car was damaged on the right front fender and doors, and the Behn auto on the left front fender and doors.

The inhalator was called out to assist a seven year old boy who fell off his bike Sunday and was knocked unconscious. The lad, Ben Yourg Jr., 1002 N. Douglas, was given first aid by an unidentified doctor and was then taken to St. Francis hospital.

Legion Carnival Opens Tuesday; Queen, Kids' Field Day, Parade, Fireworks Among Attractions

The crowning of the Freedom's Day Queen, Fourth of July parade, kiddie's field day, and a $1,000 fireworks display will highlight the annual Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, carnival to be held June 30 through July 5 in Recreation park, Arlington Heights.

Opening night, at 9 o'clock, will see the crowning of the queen. Current leaders in the popularity contest for queen are: Rose Marie Weidner, Marlene Engelking, Kay Hassil, Sally Cleaver and Darlene Maierhofer. Votes may be cast until June 29. A ballot appears elsewhere in this issue and additional ballots are available from Legion members.

They must be placed in the ballot box at Arlington Pharmacy before the closing time of 10 p. m., June 29.

THE QUEEN and four runners-up will receive trophies as well as numerous gifts totaling in value to $100. Legion Commander, Dwight D. Guilfoil will also present the queen with a $50 government bond. Other gifts will be donated by: Arlington Pharmacy, El Rey Music Center, Jack's Swirl Shop, Sieburg Drugs, Sylvia's Flowers, Silhouette Shop and Lorraine Anne Shop.

July Fourth festivities will begin with a parade at 10 a. m., under the direction of Legionnaire Les Griffith. Anyone desir- asked to contact him. Boys and girls are urged to decorate their bikes and join the parade. Cash prizes will be awarded to the youngsters with the best decorated bikes. Further details will be published next week. tails will be published next week.

Immediately following the parade, at approximately 11 a. m., the kiddie field day will be held. This will be open to all children between the ages of six and twelve. Nearly 50 prizes will be awarded to the winners and runners-up in 18 different athletic events. All contestants will receive free ice cream.

The Fourth of July events will be climaxed with the fireworks display, beginning at 9:30 p. m.

AMONG THE other highlights being offered at this year's carnival are exhibition games between the Junior Legion baseball teams, scheduled for both Saturday and Sunday, and a special "thrill act" will be performed nightly at 10:30 o'clock. (See special story elsewhere in this issue). Of course, the traditional midway, filled with games and rides, will be found on the carnival grounds, as will many other special attractions.

Legionnaire Roger Alexander, chairman of the carnival committee, announced that to date the Legion has invested over $5,000 to assure the local citizens of an entertaining, but safe and sane July Fourth celebration. Proceeds received from the carnival are used for the maintainance and proposed future expansion of the Legion Home. The Legion also needs funds to carry out the Legion program of service to a disabled veteran and for community and civic activities.

Plan Commission Chairman Asks Members' Full Cooperation

The introductory remarks made Wednesday evening by Edmund O'Brien, new Arlington Heights Plan Commission left no doubt that he expects full cooperation from all members of the commission. The members assured him that he would receive it. Only one was absent the organization evening.

Attorney Thal was asked a lot of questions regarding the legal framework of the commission and the present status of the Stanton & Rockwell report.

IN ORDER TO avoid delay of subdivision construction, a subcommittee to handle such applications was appointed that evening. Other committee appointments will be made later.

Appointed as members of plat and subdivision committee are R. Lacina, chairman, 108 S. Vail; Charles S. Seales Jr., 222 Drury Lane; Ben F. Carns, 522 S. Chestnut, and Elmer W. Crane, 626 N. Belmont.

THE NEXT MEETING will be held July 2 at which time it is expected the subcommittees will be set up to study parking, to become acquainted with the provisions of the 1938 ordinance which set up the first plan commission and to enter into a study of the Stanton & Rockwell plan.

Chairman O'Brien made this introductory statement to the commission members:

"It is expected that this group will act as a commission on matters before it. This is not a job for two or three members to handle, but the full committee must work at it, and action or recommendations will be made by the whole committee.

"We have a fine opportunity to do something worth while for our village and we must work diligently at it to merit the confidence of the mayor and the village board and of the people they represent.

"THIS MUST NOT be a 'do nothing' committee. We cannot guarantee that we will produce a lot of bright ideas, but we can and will try to work out some of the town's pressing problems.

"Of just importance is to determine as closely as we can, the authority or legal framework within which the Plan Commission can function. It is best that any recommendations of this commission be well based legally and practically so that we can avoid controversies and litigation should our recommendations be adopted by the village board."

Secretary Lacina read this letter which he had received from Willard Walters, former plan commission chairman:

"Thank you for your splendid cooperation in the work of the old plan commission. I am sure you believed as I do that the future development of the community will be influenced in a definite and beneficial way by the commission's past two years work and the Stanton & Rockwell plan, which it brought about. I shall remember our association in that work with much pleasure."

Ban Fireworks

Residents are again being warned by Mayor Albert W. Goedke that fireworks, either the sale of or use of, are prohibited in the village of Arlington Heights. Violators will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

MAYOR INCREASES BAN ON LAWN SPRINKLING

Barn Burns; Threatens Other Buildings Nearby

The fire at 120 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, Monday night might easily have been "the fire of the year." Hundreds of spectators watched a ramshackle barn go up in flames, while firemen fought to save two adjoining buildings.

Two things were in their favor — there wasn't any wind — and the water pressure held out until the fire was under control.

Persons witnessing the fire are probably now more conscious than ever of the importance of obeying the sprinkling ban. Had the water pressure failed the entire neighborhood could easily have burned to the ground.

THE FIRE started in the barn in back of the Albinus Weidner home, and according to Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman it was apparently ignited by a rubbish pile burning near the barn. A 2 story barn used as a garage that stood within a foot of the burning building was badly charred on the east wall and roof. It is owned by Al Raupp and he estimated the damage at approximately $500. Another barn, belonging to Joseph Buncik, located a few feet south, was also damaged on the west roof.

Heat from the blaze was so intense it scorched the garden and grape vines belonging to Mrs. Fred Winkelmann, 86, who lives at 118 S. State rd., and also literally wilted the garden belonging to the Bunciks, which was planted in the Weidner yard. The huge elm trees over the barn were seared by the flames, and Public Service wires were burned.

The burning barn was discovered by Mrs. Winkelmann, who ran next door to tell Weidner. All the neighbors wish to thank the fire department for its quick response and its splendid job of keeping the fire under control.

Lutheran Home Festival To Be Held July 12

For the ladies, the principal attraction at the July 12 Festival of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, will be the fancy goods booth.

The sewing group of Arlington Heights ladies which sponsors this booth will display hundreds of beautiful hand made articles. There will be doll clothes and accessories, and everything for dolls. There will be toy animals and hundreds of fancy aprons. One of the ladies has made six large and extremely durable teddy bears to show in the booth.

THE NEW OLD Folks Home, which is under construction on Oakton st., will be the main attraction for the visitors to the Festival. The Home is having a special drive at this time for funds for furnishing the new resident rooms.

Many church societies and individuals have made donations for furnishing entire rooms and there will be many others who will join them in this endeavor.

Junior High Principal Resigns to Take Position in California

Russell Savage, principal of the Arlington Heights Junior high school, resigned this week to accept a junior high school principalship in La Mesa, California.

Mr. Savage has been principal of the junior high school here since it was occupied in September 1950. During that time, the local junior high school has come to be recognized as one of the finest in the midwest and has attracted many visitors, interested in both the building and the excellent educational program.

The La Mesa Junior high school is composed of about 1,000 seventh and eighth grade students, with a faculty of 42. The staff includes two guidance counselors as well as a vice principal.

La Mesa is a suburb very similar to Arlington Heights, with a population of approximately 11,000. It is located 12 miles east of San Diego in the foothills of the mountains.

Play Program In High Gear At Recreation Park

The recreation program of the Arlington Heights park district continued in high gear this week with 18 softball teams playing 4-7 games a day in the combined Recreation and South park setups. Russ Attis is in charge of the complete program.

"This year's response is the best ever," reported Attis, "and we're relying on mothers to continue sending their children to the two parks so the present enlarged program can be continuued."

Attis reported the boys' program at both parks was well attended, as is the girls' setup at South park. However, more girls are needed at Recreation park five mornings a week. Supervised play for the girls is conducted 9-12 Monday through Friday.

TENNIS CLASSES are being conducted 1-4 five days a week with room for more registrants still available. Any children interested in the lessons need only to report to the instructor at the courts in Recreation park.

Generally, here is the schedule at both parks:

Dick Winterbauer is directing boys' activities at South park 9-12 Mondays through Fridays. Eileen Shumaker is directing girls' activities at the same time at South park.

RUTH ANN FASICK is directing girls' programs at Recreation park 9-12 five mornings a week, with Attis heading the boys' program. Tennis classes are conducted by Eileen Shumaker five afternoons a week, 1-4.

Kay Steingraber is leading the handicraft classes at Recreation park only, 1:30-4:00 with 5-7 year olds appearing Tuesdays and Thursdays, and others Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays.

Activities at both parks include softball, volleyball, football, basketball, horse shoes and croquet, with shuffleboard available at Recreation park.

Boys' softball results and averages for both parks can be found on the sport pages of this week's editions.

To Elect Officers Thursday Night of Little League Group

Second organizational meeting of the Arlington Heights Little League will be held Thursday night, June 25, at South school cafeteria with election of officers and further organization of the women's auxiliary planned

Many adults have already signed to help. More are needed. Thursday's meeting is only for adults. The boys will meet again Monday night at Recreation park.

Further details can be found on the sport page. Any adults desiring further details of the program can contact Lloyd Taylor, Chuck Bennett or Byron Sayre.

High School Asks New Students to Register

Students who will be new to Arlington Heights high school this fall, due to having just moved into the area, are asked to register at the high school before July 1, or after August 1.

Registrations will be accepted Monday through Fridays, from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 4:30 p.m.

No Daytime Watering; New Hours: 9 P.M. To 6 A.M.

Water pressure in Arlington Heights dropped to an all time low this past week end and Mayor Albert W. Goedke ordered all lawn and garden sprinkling be stopped except between the hours of 9 p. m. and 6 a. m. This new ban is to be in effect seven days a week until further notice.

Workmen are rushing to complete the temporary hookup which will allow the new million gallon water reservoir to be filled, which in turn can be let into the mains when the water pressure is low. As soon as this is in operation the sprinkling ban can be lifted.

AT THIS POINT, however, the reservoir has to be filled, chlorinated, emptied and refilled before it will be ready to go into the mains. In the meantime the contractors are proceeding with the building of the new pumping station, completion of which is necessary to put the new well in operation. The contractors have until October 6 to complete the job.

Residents are asked to cooperate with the village on the water ban as it may mean the difference in saving a building or not saving a building in event of a fire. It is hoped the ban can be lifted in the near future.

Palatine Repeats Personal Property Tax Strike

Palatine and Lemont townships are the only two townships in Cook county in which payment of personal property taxes for 1952 were less than a year ago. Palatine tax collector collected $36,000 a year ago, this year only $32,700.

Wheeling township payments increased $31,250 from $115,997 to $147,260. Last year's collection in Elk Grove was $20,294, this year $23,915. Schaumberg paid an increase of $2,274 for a total this year of $7,444. Hanover township increased $3,920 for a total of $19,283. Maine township increased $36,000, Northfield $21,000.

No explanation could be given for the personal property "tax strike" in Palatine except it may be in remonstrance to the action of the office of the county assessor which, a year ago, disregarded the figures of the assessor.

Change Some Swim Class Hours; Start Adult Swim Hours

Due to an unusually large number of children attending the Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning swimming classes at Recreation Park, Arlington Heights, the park district has had to make a change in the schedule.

All boys who are non-floaters or floaters, and meet Monday, Wednesday and Fridays at 11 a. m., should now come to the 10:15 a. m. class on those days.

All girls who are non-floaters or floaters and meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 10:15 a. m., should now come to the 11 a. m. class on those days.

All other classes will remain on the original schedule.

June 19 broke all pool records for daily attendance when 1,947 persons entered the pool to seek relief from the 100 degree temperatures.

Beginning June 25, Monday through Fridays, one hour a day will be set aside for the pool to be used by adults only, which means one has to be 21 years old or over. The hour will be between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Those taking advantage of this opportunity are asked to cooperate and obey all pool regulations, as a full staff will not be on hand at that time.

Word was received that the Northwest Park playground equipment is now installed and ready for use by children in that area. The equipment, which consists of large and small swings, slide, teeter totter, and jungle gym, was paid for by the Park District and the Northwest Community Betterment group, which contributed $150.

Render Accidental Verdict In Death Of Mexican Worker

A coroner's jury rendered an accidental verdict in the death of Antonio Lopez, who was killed by a train at the Smith street crossing in Palatine June 14. Lopez was employed as a track worker for the Chicago and North Western railroad.

Dog Runs Away From Pound, Returns Later

A male, light colored, cocker spaniel spent several days last week in the "pound" at the Arlington Heights police station. Sunday morning he broke loose and apparently "took off to the woods."

Chief Carl H. Skoog noted his disappearance and wondered how he got away. In the afternoon as he was getting ready to go out in the squad car he noticed the dog walking down Wing st. As he came to the station he walked in and laid down on the bed that had been provided for him during his stay. Maybe the police department has a new member on its force.

The dog catchers are back on the job in Arlington Heights. If "Bosco" has been gone from home for several hours or more be sure to check at the dog pound. All dogs must be kept in their own yards or walked on a leash. Owners must pay a fine each time their dog is impounded.

High Temperature Causes Speed Hazards

Since the extreme heat last Saturday "speed busters" have risen in many spots on the highways.

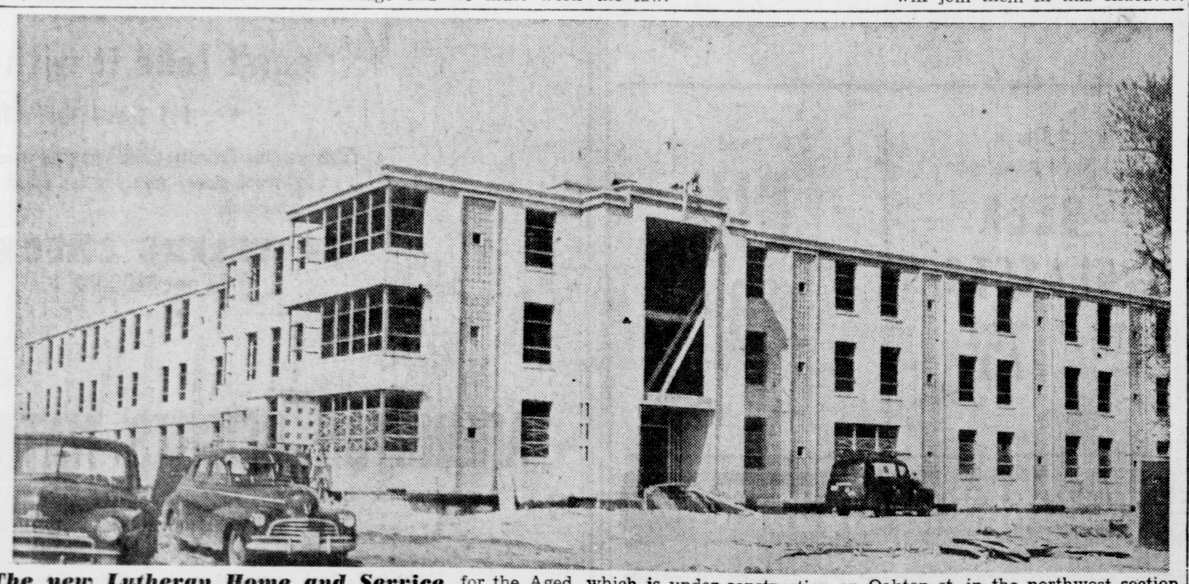

The heat expansion caused bumps sometimes as high as six inches. This was especially noted on the Northwest highway.

Highway Superientendent Wm. Mortimer said Tuesday that the bumps will remain until they are cut out and new material installed. He does not blame the black top which he says really serves as a non-conductor.

Car, Money Winners At Summer Carnivals

Vince Hafeling, 830 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, was the lucky winner of the $500 cash prize given away at the Firemen's carnival at Recreation park Sunday night. Hafeling is in charge of the Grigsby Allison plant at Fox River Grove.

Mrs. Robert Retzinger was the winner of the car given away at the St. Norbert festival in Northbrook Sunday.

The new Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, which is under construction on Oakton st. in the northwest section of Arlington Heights. Rev. J. M. Kempf, director of the Home, said the building would be dedicated October 11, at which time it is also expected the residents will be occupying the building. A special feature includes a sun deck on the roof, which the residents can reach by elevator, and the view of the countryside from that point is breath taking. The east and west ends of the buildings have sun porches on each floor, there is a connecting lavatory for every two rooms, with each resident having his own private room, and colorful tile baths are located at strategic points throughout the building. —Folkman Photo.

Local Federal Savings Has Good News For Depositors

Next week the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association is holding "open house" to all area residents. It is a "double" celebration—first, to celebrate the completion of its new quarters and secondly to celebrate the payment of its first dividend.

The new 35' electric sign with 18" letters for the front of the building will not be ready, but all the rest of the facilities for savings and lending are now complete.

The association was granted a Federal charter January 13, 1953 and commenced business March 15, 1953 with $101,927.75 of presubscribed deposits. At June 22 the deposits had increased to $233,276.07.

Almost as quickly as the doors were opened—a substantial portion of deposits were loaned on residential real estate mortgages and since then additional real estate loans are steadily earning funds with which to pay dividends. At the same time officers and directors, who are successful business and professional men, with experience and "know how" have been contributing much of their time and talent without compensation that regular dividends would be assured right from the start.

The current dividend rate is 2½% and the staff is now engaged in computing dividend number one for all eligible depositors. Most of them will receive their dividend by way of an addition to deposit accounts while others will by preference, receive their dividend in the form of a check mailed to them.

A full page ad in this week's issue explains an interesting gift program whereby depositors will be entitled to useful gifts for opening or increasing savings deposit accounts during open house.

The officers and directors are entitled to a vote of thanks nd of confidence by the community, for their efforts in creating this savings and lending organization where area residents will find it so convenient to save with safety and for profit.

Northwest Heighters Activities

Trips

Mrs. Herman Stolp and her son, Billy, have just returned from a motor trip to Springfield, where they visited for five days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor.

Michael and Carroll Hubbard left on the "City of Denver" last week for Brighton, Colo., where they will spend the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggs.

Mrs. Norbert Willging will take her children, Patricia, Ann, Miriam, David and Julie for a two week visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rastatter of Dubuque, Iowa. While the family is away, Mr. Willging will make a business trip to Providence, R. I. and Boston.

Mr and Mrs. Paul Fellingham and their daughters, Carol and Wendy, enjoyed a week's vacation at Cass Lake and Detroit where they visited Mrs. Fellingham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brueggeman. Their niece, Mary Coggan, 15, returned home with them for her vacation.

The Thomas Sheets family will leave this week for a trip south. They will visit in Louisville, Chatanooga, Tenn. and Danville, Va., where they will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sheets.

Small Fry

Happy birthday to Dick Stolp, who was 15 years old Monday.

Tommy Sheets had the misfortune to break his arm on Memorial day and to make matters worse the arm had to be reset three times. Although Tommy will have to be in a cast a part of the summer, it looks like he is finally on the mend again.

Neighborhood Doings

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moran, who celebrated their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary Monday.

Mrs. Jack Keller was called home to Elkhart, Ind., because of the illness of her mother.

Week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Rapp were Mrs. Earl Rapp and Miss Grace Rapp of Tucson, Ariz.

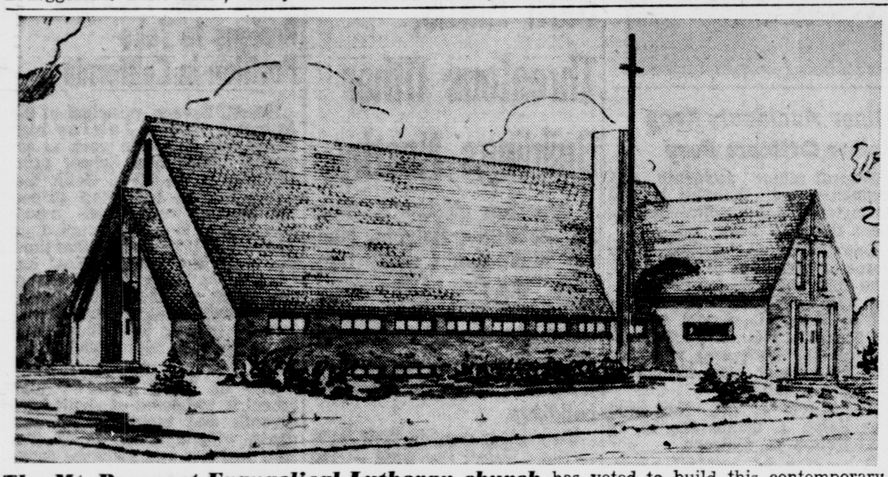

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hubbard and their children, Allen and Ginny Lou, were Sunday dinner guests of Capt. and Mrs. Paul Spencer at Ft. Sheridan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Witt entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Price of Chicago, on Sunday in celebration of both Father's day and Mr. Price's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Busch and family spent Sunday at her mother's, Mrs. Carl Carlson of Antioch. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Warffuel and their daughter, Gail, were also visitors for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sider and Jackie and Jimmie visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sider of Chicago, on Father's day.

Mary Jo Utt and Mr. Merton Postle enjoyed seeing the Cubs and Dodgers play ball at Wrigley field Saturday. They had seats right in back of the Dodgers dugout and although Mary Jo is an avid Cub fan, she was happy to obtain the autographs of Joe Black, Bob Milliken and Russ Meyer of the Dodgers.

The Mt. Prospect Evangelical Lutheran church has voted to build this contemporary style church building at Wille and Evergreen streets. A campaign is now in progress to raise enough in cash and pledges to enable the congregation to break ground by spring of 1954. The plan was chosen for its churchly appearance as well as the manner in which the architecture fits into the village's suburban atmosphere. The entrance to the right in the perspective, is the re-roofed, re-faced cement block structure which forms the present church. The new entrance (left) faces Wille st.

Mount Prospect Church Starts Campaign For New Building

Basing their campaign on the theme, "Make room — in your heart for Jesus — in God's house for your neighbor," seven-year-old Mount Prospect Evangelical Lutheran church launched a campaign this week to raise enough money to break ground next spring for a new $159,000 church building.

The brief history of the robust seven-year-old has been one of continuing expansion until the congregation now numbers more than 700 souls and owns three new buildings.

Each member will be visited during the week by lay teams of two men each who have been attending informational and educational meetings for several weeks.

The congregation approved the new church building at a meeting at Central school last Friday night and agreed to undertake the task of raising within a year the $80,000 necessary if ground is to be broken in the spring of 1954.

THE NEW building will face Wille st. A rear wing facing Evergreen is really the present building, re-faced, re-roofed and given different window treatment.

The Rev. H. J. Rasmussen, who was called to the congregation from Wausau, Wis., in the fall of 1951, has worked with the building committee and the architect, Walter Kroeber, Arlington Heights, in weekly meetings throughout the late winter and spring months.

He reported that the plan was unanimously decided upon by the building committee after careful consideration of several others. He praised the architect for his patience and cooperation in working up several ideas. Its easy adaptation to the suburban locale is the thing that captured the fancy of the committee, the pastor relates.

Seating capacity of the nave would be 324, plus 60 in the balcony and 108 more in chairs. Provision for future expansion under the same roof is included, should that become necessary. The basement includes 12 Sunday school rooms for 10 pupils each. The present nave will provide additional Sunday school space besides the 24 x 41-foot area now being used in the old church basement and space in the basement, garage and rooms of the new parish house.

Cloakrooms, kitchen, rest rooms and a 30x60 foot social hall are included in the basement.

Coming into the church from Wille st., passing through the narthex, the worshipper will immediately face the altar located in the north end of the 92-foot building. The nave itself will be 60x40 feet; the narthex, 12x40. As presently planned the chancel will be 12 feet deep by 17 feet wide. Behind the altar, of course, will be the west wall of the present structure. Access to the old building can be gained either through the present entrance, through doors on either side of the chancel, or from a doorway on the basement level.

FEATURES OF the exterior are the new low walls, sweeping roof and narrow windows. The windows are designed for easy adaptation to the picture series manner of relating a parable in stained art glass.

A stainless steel cross on a stone pylon will rise 65-feet into the air above the building.

The laminated truss structure that will support the roof avoids completely the necessity of cross beams and ties.

Members of the building committee who have been at work on the project are: Dr. Norris Nesset, Palatine, chairman; Daniel R. Borgen, Prospect Heights, co-chairman; George Petty, Mount Prospect, treasurer; Louis Langpop, Mount Prospect, secretary; Victor G. Severin, Mount Prospect, fact-finding chairman; Herbert A. Gumz, Mount Prospect, needs chairman; Lawrence J. Dahlgren, Arlington Heights, legal counsel; Darwin Blix, Arlington Heights, and Carl Pedersen, Des Plaines, co-construction chairman; Owen Kompelien, Palatine, fund-raising chairman; and Charles W. Payne, Mount Prospect, publicity chairman.

Holding the first meetings in the homes of a handful of interested Christians in 1945, the congregation organized formally in 1946; completed a parsonage at Pine and Evergreen and the present church building the same year; completed a parish house at Pine and Evergreen in 1952. The Rev. B. T. Anderson was called to the pastorate in 1946. Upon his resignation in 1951, the Rev. Rasmussen assumed the ministry.

Arlington Heights Helps Employees Meet Increased Living Costs

It will cost the village of Arlington Heights several thousand dollars more than last year for salaries, but the village board did not hesitate to help its employees meet increased living costs.

The increased amounts were approved by the finance committee in the belief that happy employees will do a better job. "A man who has trouble making ends meet is never happy," was the way one alderman expressed it.

County Board of School Trustees Reaffirm Action

Cook County Board of School trustees met in the office of the county superintendent of schools, Monday. After studying the transcripts of hearings held May 27, June 4 and June 10 in reference to the disconnection, of an area from school district 57, the board reaffirmed its former decision and denied the petition.

The matter is now in the hands of Judge McDermott, who has been asked to give a decision before court sessions ending June 3. (CM

Palatine Girl 1953 Vegetable Queen

A farm girl from Palatine was elected Cook County Vegetable Queen for 1953 according to an announcement made this week by Elmer J. Steil, Assistant Secretary of the Cook County Truck Gardeners Association and Chairman of the lacol contest committee.

Elaine Schnell, a student at Arlington Heights high school and the daughter of a vegetable grower is the lucky girl chosen to represent the Cook County vegetable industry in competition for State and National Vegetable Queen. Her name and qualifications have been forwarded to the Illinois State Vegetable Growers Association who will choose a candidate to represent the State of Illinois. The winner of the State contest will go to the annual convention of the Vegetable Growers Association of America at St. Louis, Mo., November 30 to December 4 where the National Queen will be chosen.

Vegetable Queens from the various localities and States play an important part in the promotion of the sale of vegetables during National Vegetable Week held each year in August. In the past years these Queens were feted on radio and television and magazine and newspaper advertising of fresh vegetables.

Miss Schnell is quite handy at driving the tractor and other machinery around the farm. However, being the only daughter on the 122 acre vegetable farm with her mother and father and three brothers, most of her time is spent in and around the house. She took up home economics at school and is interested in homemaking.

Elaine does most of the cooking for the family and she says her favorites are fried chicken, pork chops and potato pancakes — "German style." In her spare time she helps out as a waitress in an ice cream parlor and does baby sitting for radio star Bob Atcher, who lives nearby.

During the summer and early fall Elaine is the saleslady at the farm vegetable stand where the many varieties of vegetables that are grown on their farm are sold. "It is pretty hard work sometimes," says Elaine, "but certainly very interesting."

For the past three years the Vegetable Queen candidates from Cook County were selected as Illinois Queens and with all the talents and qualifications which are characteristic of Elaine, she should go far in the contest for 1953.

Rose Fever Sufferers

The Chicago Motor club has advised rose fever sufferers to seek relief in two places—Miami Beach, Florida, and San Francisco, California.

Rose fever, the Motor Club points out, is not caused by roses but by the pollen of various grasses. Allergists use the more accurate designation of grass fever. Unlike hay fever, which strikes in late summer or early fall when rag weed is in bloom, grass fever lasts six weeks from early June to mid-July. Grass pollinating from the first of June through the middle of July sheds its pollen each day early in the morning. This means that the grass pollen on a hot windy day is in the air constantly causing real discomfort for the allergic sufferer.

The Chicago Motor club offers one bit of encouragement to early sneezers. The grass pollen is usually all gone by mid-July so if you can't get to Miami Beach or San Francisco just hold out for another month and the air should be fit to breathe again.

Baptisms

Six week old Bonnie Lee Oehlerking was christened Sunday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oehlerking, Wheeling rd., by Rev. L. V. Stephan. Bonnie Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Oehlerking, Palatine rd., near Wheeling. Sponsors of the baby were her grandparents, Mrs. Albert Oehlerking and Ed Nagle. Twenty-five relatives and close friends were present for the christening.

Attend Boys' State

Six students of Arlington Hts. high school are attending Boys' State at Springfield this week. Their attendance was made possible by the American Legion, Arlington Heights Lions and Kiwanis clubs. They will return home Sunday. The boys are: Dave Brant, Dick Winterbauer, Ed Friesendorf, Burt Goldthwaite, Dick Malcomson and Denny Maher.

Up and Doing 4-H Club Holds Meetings

The Up and Doing 4-H club of Elk Grove held two meetings recently. The first was on June 2 at Ann Nunamaker's home. Nancy Reinlie gave a talk on cookies and Helen Grimm gave a talk on draperies. Nancy Honemann, Arlene Moellenkamp, and Nancy Reinlie gave talks on fire prevention.

June 10 members toured Grimm's greenhouse, and held a wiener roast at Diane Deeke's home.

The second meeting was at the home of Sandra Busse June 16. Marilyn Hagenow and Helen Grimm gave a demonstration and talk on chicken salad. Arlene Moellenkamp talked on dress seams; Nancy Honemann talked on how to press seams: and Judy Moehling talked about her clothing project. A talk on draped dressing tables was given by Diane Deeke. Lois Landmeier showed the girls how to make ice-box cookies. Health was discussed by Judy Moehling, Deborah Eickling, and Marcella Beigel.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Franklin Landmeier, Mrs. Arthur Busse, Mrs. Edwin Deeke, and Mrs. Wallace Busse.

Recreation and refreshments ended the meeting. (AMCR

New Fiction: "Pablo's Mountain," by Albert Johnston. The Galvados' story is a universal one. The author tells it with truth and a sensitivity to the emotions of the very human people he portrays.

"The Corner Store," by Albert Idell. The author has written with warmth, humor, and great honesty of the problems and triumphs of ordinary people and has captured their minds and hearts in this vivid cross section of American life.

"Ride Out the Storm," by Roger Vercel. This is a novel of the last great days of sail in the years preceding the First World War. "Not only a fine novel of the sea, but also a striking psychological study."

"My Life on Earth," by Edward Heth. Here, in this story of a successful, hurried, tense city man who was forced to return to the country, is the kind of voyage all of us secretly make, yet never accomplish.

"Kingfishers Catch Fire," by Rumer Godden. Returning to the scene of her best-loved books, Rumer Godden now brings us another moving story of India.

"THE WISE BAMBOO," by J. Malcolm Morris. Six hectic, funny and exciting years as manager of Tokyo's Imperial Hotel.

"Cancel All Our Vows." Perhaps at mid-point there is a nostalgia for things that never were. Or a greed for more lives than one.

"Heather Mary," by J. M. Scott. A foreboding of disaster, and a chilling, uncanny feeling of mystery runs through this weird story of the sea.

"The Colour of the Glass," by Rose Thurburn. Sensitivity, intelligence, and the fresh revealing phrase mark this story of two fine, mature people who fall in love.

"Affair of the Heart," by Margaret Long. An intense and tender story with a wealth of meaning for our times.

"The Singer Not the Song," by Audrey Erskine Lindop. The small isolated Mexican community was completely dominted by the bandit, Malo until Father Keogh came. Around these two unforgettable figures, the author weaves a story of great warmth and deep feeling.

NON-FICTION: "Miss Douglas of New York," by Angus Davidson. The biography of an American lion-huntress in the social jungles of nineteenth-century Europe.

"The Natural Superiority of Women," by Ashley Montagu. Are women really superior to men? Here is an eminent authority's reasoned answer to one of the most provocative themes in history.

"With God in Red China," by F. Stockwell. What is happening to Christians in China told by one of the last missionaries to get out of Communist jails.

60% of Total Taxes Collected In County

A total of $244,391,574.49 in real estate, railroad and personal property taxes has been collected in Chicago and Cook county as of May 29, John B. Brenza, county treasurer, announced Tuesday.

This total represents about 60 per cent of possible collection if everyone paid. Brenza said the rest of the taxes will be due September 1. Real estate and railroad taxes are paid in two installments while personal property taxes must be paid in one installment by May 1.

Chicago residents paid $139,360,207 in real estate taxes as compared with $37,954,109 by county residents living outside Chicago. Chicago tax payers paid $52,258,950 in personal property taxes as compared with $9,205,304 by county residents.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

A Smoky mountain vacation — from which we've just returned — offers many advantages to the traveler. In the first place, it's enough to Chicago to make a fine week-plus-a-week end trip without too strenuous driving (for us the whole trip was slightly under 2000 miles, making a daily average of less than 250 miles — counting numerous sightseeing excursions).

The scenery in the Smoky mountain area is some of the most beautiful and most rugged we have ever seen. Of course, the mountains themselves are not so spectacular as the Rockies, but the views from sharply curving roads make up for this. The road from Cherokee — an Indian reservation where most of the Indians work in souvenir stands or gasoline stations — across to Gatlinburg climbs to nearly 6000 feet with a side trip to 6600-foot high Klingman's dome well worth while. Atop Klingman the clouds swirl around one's head, and even people standing nearby are momentarily lost from view. Sudden gusts of wind take one's breath away and nearly knock one off his feet.

OUR TRIP began with a two-day stay at famous Fontana village, North Carolina, formerly the home of government employees who helped build the Fontana dam, largest dam in Eastern America. The sight of the dam alone is worth the trip to Fontana, especially so to view it lighted up at night.

Fontana village offers visitors accommodations in modern cottages built up the side of the mountain. They may be rented either with or without housekeeping facilities, and there are restaurants available for those who choose not to do their own cooking.

A planned program is offered for those who wish to participate — nature trips, softball, ping pong, shuffleboard, square dancing and home talent shows. No pressure is put on those who prefer to loaf or find their own entertainment.

FROM FONTANA we drove to Cherokee and across to Gatlinburg. Gatlinburg is literally a town for tourists. It is filled with the most unusual and most attractive motels we have ever seen. The streets are crowded with restaurants, serving good food at prices not a bit out of line. Since the headquarters of Smoky Mountain National park are adacent to Gatlinburg, hikes and lectures, with park naturalists and guides in charge, are high on the tourists' agenda.

Incidentally, Gatlinburg is also the home of the Pi Beta Phi settlement school, whose handicraft is featured each year at the local alumnae group.

On the return trip we paid a visit to the museum of atomic energy at Oak Ridge, where they do their best to explain the principles of atomic energy in simple terms.

ANOTHER stopping place on the way back was the Boone tavern hotel run by students of the cooperative college at Berea, Ky. Here students do 90 per cent of the work of the hotel, and much of the food served comes from their own farm and dairy.

Other points of interest in each direction — Purdue university, Lexington, Ky., and the horse farms of the blue grass country, numerous state parks, etc. — helped relieve the monotony of drive and added to the enjoyment of the trip.

SHOPPING with SHARON

"Cleaner than new" is the way I would describe the process Mayfair Rug Cleaners have recently introduced for cleaning your rugs and carpets. The method is as easy on a rug as taking a shower.

The rug is laid flat on a cement floor. is covered with mild detergent soap flakes; then under a 325-pound pressure, water is sprayed on the rug at the rate of 18 gallons a second. Back and forth goes the spray and the thick lather is built up, until every vestige of dirt is loosened.

Then the rinsing begins, and under the same 325-pound pressure, clear water at the rate of 25 gallons a second floats each tiny particle out until the rug or carpet sparkles with the brightness of its original appearance.

There is no beating, no brushing, no pounding to weaken or break the threads of the weave; no vacuum suction to dislodge the fibres; just a thorough gentle showering with soft water, and a thorough rinsing.

After the washing and rinsing, the rug passes through a wringer with big soft rolls, and the water is gently squeezed out; then the rug or carpet is hung up to dry, is sized, brushed, wrapped and delivered to your home.

Prices for cleaning vary with size and style of rugs; a 9 x 12 domestic, cleaned, sized and delivered, is $6.45.

Oriental rugs can be cleaned as safely as domestic or cotton rugs—and the process is especially kind to shag and hooked rugs.

Your rug is as safe in the hands of the Mayfair workmen as it is on the floor of your home. Our service includes pick-up and delivery.—MAYFAIR RUG CLEANERS, 115 N. State, Arlington Heights. Phone us at CLearbrook 3-2205.

Order of the Arrow Election

Lakota Lodge No. 175, W.W.W held the election of their officers for the coming year. This election took place Sunday, June 14, at the First Congregational church, Des Plaines.

Arrow Calendar

August 15-16-17: Order of the Arrow week end Camp Napowan, Wild Rose, Wisconsin.

September 18-19-20: Order of the Arrow fellowship week end Camp Baden Powell

Thank Mueller's Stationery Store

Troop 7 and Post 707 would like to take this opportunity to thank Arthur H. Mueller of Mueller's Stationery Store for the generous and unselfish use of his new store (the old post office), for the bake sale held Saturday, June 20. This sale would have hardly been possible without such donations.

The proceeds of this event are going to help send Chuck Crittenden, the new Senior Patrol Leader of Troop 7, to the National Junior Leaders Training Camp located at Schiff Scout Reservation.

Last Chance for Napowan

If you would like to go to Camp Napowan this summer, and have not already made arrangements, contact your unit leader. The only open spots are in the seventh period, and they are limited. At the last count, (taken last week), 60 positions remained open. If more information is requested, call the scout office in Park Ridge at TA 3-4191.

Dove Hunters May Lose That Sport

If Illinois dove hunters don't get busy right quick they may wake up some morning this week and find their favorite sport has been made illegal, all needlessly and erroneously, just because a few misguided super-sentimentalists want to make the dove a song bird.

If the dove's coo is a song, then the crow is a second Galli Curcci.

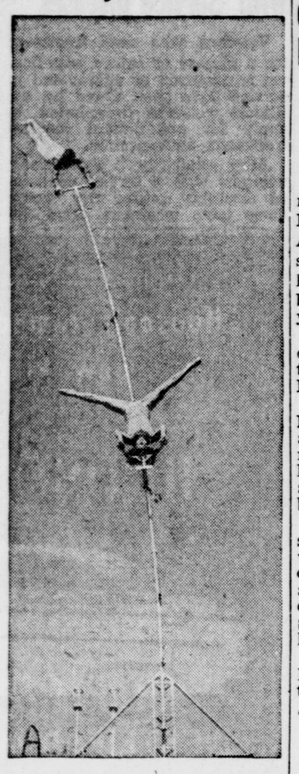

Game laws should be based on facts, not on sentiment. The facts from game management men of the U. S. fish and wildlife service, Illinois natural history survey, show there is no immediate danger of the dove becoming extinct. The facts also indicate that if there should ever become danger of its extinction it won't be because there is an open season but rather from natural causes, lack of nesting space, high winds or disease. The first people to ask dove protection when and if this day arrives will be the dove hunters themselves who have a much larger stake in continuous dove populations.

There has not been an open season on prairie chicken for many years. Yet this once populous game bird is in danger of extension because its habitat is gone. Dove hunters believe in taking positive, not negative action to produce a harvestable crop of doves. They are planting trees to give needed nesting sites.

Aerial Snyders

One of the thrilling features at the American Legion carnival, June 30-July 5, at Recreation park, Arlington Heights, will be the Aerial Snyders.

The Snyders, a young man and his attractive young lady partner, present an unusual routine on a high rigging. Theirs is a dual picture of perfectly controlled acrobatics making it doubly thrilling because of the dizzy height at which they work.

With dare-devil-like attitude these artists can leave no room for guesswork. Every move, every gesture that they make, has been carefully planned. A fitting climax to their daring act is provided by their suicidal double hand and headstand atop their 125 foot sway pole. The only act to every accomplish this feat.

Civil Service Exams

Applications are being accepted to fill the following position vacancies located in veterans administration installations at Chicago, Danville, Downey, Dwight, Hines, Marion, and other federal establishments in Illinois:

Medical X-ray Technician, $2750 to $3795 per year.

Electrocardiograph Technician, $2950 to $3410 per year.

Electroencephalograph Technician, $2950 to $3410 per year.

There is also an urgent need in the veterans administration for Medical Laboratory Technician, $2950 through $3410 per year.

Veterans Enrollments Are at Record High

Illinois veterans' enrollments under the new Korean GI bill have more than doubled during the first four months of 1953.

The number of veterans in training under the nine-month old law stood at 131,000 nationally, as of May 1. On the same date over five thousand of those veterans were in training in Illinois. At the beginning of the year, the state enrollment figure was 2,079 — or less than half.

Two Life Guards Credited with Saving Life at Heights' Pool

(The story in last week's paper regarding the near drowning of a young boy at the Arlington pool was in error. This is the corrected report.)

Teaming up to do a job was nothing new for a couple of Mt. Prospect girls, who were pals at Arlington Heights township high school from 1948 to 1951 and have been roommates at Wittenberg college for the past two years.

But their teamwork was the difference between life and death to little John Watson, 7, 418 S. Lincoln lane, Arlington Heights.

The girls are Nancy Dallia and Marjorie Payne, both life guards at the swimming pool in the recreation park. They learned their life saving techniques in the physical education classes at Wittenberg in Springfield, Ohio.

It was the opening day for the swimming pool and the season was not more than 45 minutes old, when Nancy Dallia spotted a form on the bottom of the deep end. Without removing her glasses she dove in and brought him to the surface.

Marjorie, who was about to relieve her at the deep end, under the guard rotation plan, took over at the pool's edge and administered artificial respiration using the new Red Cross method.

In six minutes the unconscious boy was breathing naturally. The Arlington Heights Fire Department inhalator squad arrived and took over.

The two girls' friendship had paid off many times in good times at both high school and college affairs, but this was the first time it had given them the thrill of teaming up to save a life.

For the Answer to this Question

The latest windstorm tore off the neighbor's garage doors, knocked a branch thru their picture-window, tore shingles off the roof, and damaged the porch and lawn furniture. Does the "extended coverage" of a Residence Fire policy cover all such losses?

TV NEWS

by Don Hager

No two people are more indebted to television, and no one has had more publicity from it, than Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Nearly every newspaper and national magazine recently has had a spread on video's favorite couple.

Actually TV was responsible for Lucy and Desi being able to settle down to a more normal home life and raise a family. Before "I Love Lucy" was dreamed up, Lucy was making pictures and Desi was heading up his orchestra. When he wasn't on the road with his band he would be playing a Hollywood night spot or rehearsing. The only time he and Lucy would see each other would be at some unlikely hour like 6 A.M., when she was leaving for the studio and he was coming home from a band session.

Many times they were ready to call their marriage quits, but love surmounted the obstacles. They decided they would have to work together, but movie producers refused to cast them together and radio turned them down. Lucy was told that Desi wasn't her type!

So they studied TV and came up with "I Love Lucy" . . . and love triumphed after all! The new Dumont sets are a triumph of modern engineering and design, with new pulling power for fine reception even in fringe areas. See the new Dumont models at DON HAGER'S TV & APPLIANCE, 11 W. Davis Street, Arlington Heights. Phone CLearbrook 3-0700.

Elk Grove Woman Leaves 105 Decendants

Mrs. Louise Rohlwing, 89, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lichthardt came from Germany in 1847, passed away Saturday at her home, 1 S. Maple st., Mt. Prospect.

Surviving descendants totaling 105, include three daughters, two sons, 29 grandchildren, 61 great grandchildren and ten great great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect. Interment at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran cemetery in Schaumburg.

Deceased was born Feb. 15, 1864 in Schaumburg township. She was married to John Rohlwing June 2, 1881 in Schaumburg. He died in 1909.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Emma Pfingsten, Roselle; Mrs. Martha Oltendorf, Bartlett, and Mrs. Anna Meier, Elk Grove; two sons, Herman, Roselle; William, who resides on the family homestead on Rohlwing road, Elk Grove township, and a sister, Mrs. Engle Nerge. She was preceded in death by three daughters and a son.

Mrs. Rohlwing has had almost perfect health all of her life. She has never entered a hospital, could read without glasses, and her last illness, supposedly due to the heat, came the day before her death.

J. George Vehe

Funeral services, in charge of Rev. Glenn G. Gumm, are being held today at 2 p.m. for J. George Vehe at Tharp Funeral home, Palatine. Interment is in the family lot in Hillside.

Mr. Vehe leaves his wife, Ida, and a sister, Mrs. Laura Perry.

He was born in Palatine, November 2, 1887 and lived there all his life. Following completion of high school, he entered employ of Chicago and North Western railroad and later engaged in business in the Vehe store building.

He married Ida Hoyer in 1917. He never seemed to recover from the shock of his mother's death in April 1951. He closed up the store and his health began to fail.

August Steinmeyer

Funeral services for August Steinmeyer, who died in Elgin June 17, were held Saturday, June 20 from the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Des Plaines. A retired greenhouse foreman at Sauerland's, he was born in 1882 in Schaumburg township.

He is survived by two sisters, Caroline Scharringhausen of Arlington Heights, Augusta Heimsoth of Des Plaines and a brother, Herman of Palatine.

Rev. Earl Brehm officiated at the services. Interment, Elk Grove cemetery, Elk Grove township.

Give Aid for Vets With 'Service Diseases'

Veterans who need treatment for a disease or injury adjudicated as incurred or aggravated in service have been urged by the Illinois veterans commission to apply for out-patient medical treatment authorization.

After eligibility is established, veterans with a service connected disability rating may secure home town treatment from authorized private physicians, the IVC announcement said.

Disability rating from 0% to 100% qualify a veteran for treatment.

IVC service officers throughout the state are prepared to assist veterans who desire the advantages of this benefit.

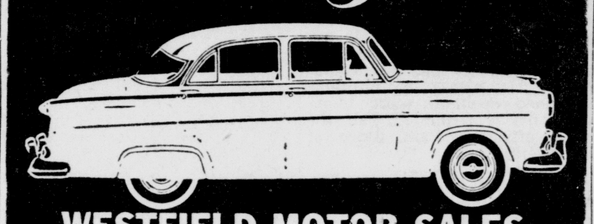

Hours of 9-5 prevail at IVC offices at 164 N. Marion, Oak Park, and 213 Liberty building, Wheaton.

Wed In Palatine Church June 20

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR LINNEMANN JR.

Wearing 51-year-old orange blossoms from her grandmother's wedding veil, Miss Vernette Schwolow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Schwolow, 318 W. Comfort st., Palatine, and Arthur Linnemann Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linnemann Sr., Linnemann rd., Arlington Heights, were united in marriage Saturday, June 20.

The double ring ceremony took place at seven o'clock in Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine, amid a setting of all white flowers. Rev. Hilmar Rosenberg officiated at the ceremony and Walter Rueger served as soloist with Paul Leimer accompanying him at the organ and rendering the nuptial selections. Solos were "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "The Lord's Prayer." At the altar of the church were white carnations and on the pews were white roses and orange blossoms. Palms and baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and peonies completed the floral decorations.

For her marriage, the bride wore a white satin gown with lace fashioned with long lace train and scalloped neckline with pearl trim. Her fingertip veil was held with a headpiece made with the 51-year-old flowers. Amazon lilies, stephanotis and ivy on a white Bible made up her bridal floral piece. Mr. Schwolow gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Elaine Schwolow. Her gown was of yellow taffeta with nylon tulle skirt and lace bolero. Blue gowns, fashioned identically to the maid of honor's gown, were worn by bridesmaids Mrs. June Fransen of Crystal Lake, Mrs. Dolly Linnemann, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Vera Hammer, sister of the groom. Five-year-old Kay Schwolow, niece of the bride, served as flower girl wearing yellow to match the maid of honor. The bridesmaids carried yellow gladioli, stephanotis and variegated ivy in the shape of baskets with braided handles. The maid of honor and the flower girl had blue delphinium added to their flower baskets.

Arnold Linnemann, brother of the groom, served as best man and Arthur Bathje, Donald Kells and Erwin Albrecht served as ushers.

The Elk Grove school was the scene of a reception following the candlelight ceremony. Among the 250 guests was the bride's grandfather, George Schroeder Sr., of Palatine, who wore the boutonniere he wore at his own wedding 51 years ago. Also present were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Linnemann of Arlington Heights.

The newly wedded couple left on a 10-day honeymoon trip through the south and will reside in Mayville, Wis., where the groom teaches in the Mayville school.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

There's a surprise in store for you when you try Mrs. Charles E. Swingley's "Surprise" dessert.

You'll find that it is something deliciously different in the refrigerator dessert line, as Mrs. Swingley brought this recipe with her when the family moved to Palatine from Dallas two years ago, and as yet she has not been served a similar dessert in this area.

When she serves it to guests they usually remark about its uniqueness and are eager for the recipe.

The "Surprise" is hidden by a graham cracker crumble crust and topping. It is vanilla flavored and light and fluffy.

Although the dessert is fairly rich, it is excellent to serve following a dinner, but the pieces should be cut smaller than usual when serving it with coffee only for afternoon or evening refreshment.

Mrs. Swingley's two sons, Steve, 9½, and David, 6, choose Surprise as their favorite dessert. Steve will enter fifth grade in the fall and David will enter 1st.

Her boys were the inspiration for Mrs. Swingley's interest in Cub Scout work, and she is now an assistant den mother. Mrs. Swingley is also a member of the WSCS of the Palatine Methodist church.

The Swingleys live at 144 S. Linden in Palatine.

Surprise

1 tablespoon gelatin.
1/3 cup cold water.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
½ cup sugar.
Pinch of salt.
3/4 cup milk.
2 eggs.
½ pint whipping cream.

Dissolve gelatin in the cold water. Add vanilla.

Mix the sugar, salt, milk and beaten egg yolks together in a pan. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat, add to the gelatin mixture and let cool. When thickened, beat until fluffy.

Fold in the beaten egg whites and the whipped cream.

Pour over the cracker crumble and cover with remaining crumbs. Chill in refrigerator for several hours.

Cracker Crumble

15 single graham crackers, crumbled.
3 tablespoons melted butter.
3 tablespoons brown sugar.

Mix the crumbled graham crackers, butter and sugar together. Use one-half of this mixture to line a pan 7 by 12 inches. Pour in the Surprise and cover with remaining crumbs. Serves 12

Stork Feathers

A second son, William Lawrence Overtoom was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Overtoom of 4023 Centinella ave. of Culver City, Cal. June 14, at the Santa Barbara Cottage hospital, Santa Barbara. William weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce. His older brother, Donnie, is 16 months old. Mrs. Overtoom is the former Janice Taylor of Arlington Heights. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taylor of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. H. Overtoom of Paw Paw, Mich. are the grandparents.

First grandchild in the Albert Kutz and William Stade families of Palatine, was born June 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stade, Palatine rd., Arlington Heights. The baby boy, born in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, was named Vernon Gordon and weighed 8 pounds, 10 ounces at birth. Vernon's mother is the former Irene Kutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Yemm of 5326 S. Cornell, Chicago, are announcing the arrival of a daughter, Mary Ann. She was born June 15 and tipped the scales at 6 pounds 11 ounces. Mrs. Yemm is the former Beverly Simmons of Arlington Heights.

Arlington OES Lists Meeting Dates

Local Women Attend National AAUW Meeting

Three local women are representing northwest suburban branch of the American Association of University Women at the biennial national convention held in Minneapolis this week. Mrs. George Bailey, Des Plaines, president of the branch, Mrs. W. J. Hartman, Mount Prospect, junior past president, and Miss Joan Shaw, Chicago, historian of the branch, are attending the sessions.

"The Education of a Free People" has been chosen as the theme of the convention, which is drawing an estimated 2000 delegates from the 1231 A.A.U.W. branches in this country. Dr. Susan Riley, of Nashville, Tennessee, is national president, and headlines a list of prominent speakers. Announced speakers and topics include Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence college, New York, "Freedom and Authority in Education,"; Dr. John Darlye, professor of psychology and dean at University of Minnesota, "The Making of Public Opinion"; Mrs. Consuelo Northrup Bailey, speaker of the Vermont House of Representatives, "Are Women Free People?"; Senator Humphrey of Minnesota and Governor John Lodge of Connecticut, "International Relations"; and the concluding address will be by Miss Fannie Hurst, Novelist, entitled "The Place of Women in Contemporary Art."

Northwest suburban branch members are making final plans now for their school for migrant children, which is in its sixth season. This year the school will be held in the Central school of Des Plaines, during the month of July.

Elmer Hansens Entertain Guests From Ames, Iowa

The Elmer N. Hansens of 939 North Highland ave., entertained several guests from Ames, Iowa, this past week. Among them was the Percy C. Carr family. Dr. Carr is professor of physics at the Iowa State college, Mrs. Carr served as district leader of Camp Fire Girls when Phyllis Hansen was working on her Torch Bearer ranks, the highest in this organization. Phyllis earned her sixth and seventh at San Luis Obispo, Calif.

The Carr's son, Robert, won the Iowa Science Award and is now on his way to Germany where he will be an exchange student through the American Field Service. In the fall he will attend Cornell university, Ithaca, N.Y., on a four-year scholarship.

With the Carrs was Reemt V. Pauls who is returning to his home in Norden, Germany. He has been one of the 200 exchange students in the United States this past year.

Another guest of the Hansen's was Miss Muriel Paustian of Ames. A student at Iowa State college, she was on her way to a northern Michigan resort where she will work during the summer months.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were formerly on the staff at Iowa State college.

Marilyn Gronfeldt, Richard Peterson Wed

The Prospect Heights Baptist church was the scene of a candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 13, in which Miss Marilyn Gronfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurids Gronfeldt, 108 E. Clarendon, Prospect Heights, and Richard D. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson, Arlington Heights, repeated their marriage vows.

The ceremony was solemnized at 7 o'clock with Rev. Alvin Gage officiating. Soloist was Mrs. Merwin Reis and the nuptial selections were "Because" and "Oh Promise Me." She was accompanied by Mrs. Roy Truelsen, pianist. Palms and baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a nylon lace and net over satin gown made with round neckline with appliqued flowers. A juliet cap with seed pearls held her fingertip veil to her head and she carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis with a glamellia corsage inset.

Miss Benita Riley of Arlington Heights, served as maid of honor wearing a yellow gown of nylon net over taffeta. Miss Rita Zielski of Lombard and Miss Irene Herring of Prospect Heights, served as bridesmaids wearing gown in blue fashioned identically to the maid of honor's gown. The skirts of their gowns were of net and the bodices had capped sleeves and peplums. They wore gloves to match their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of yellow gladioli with blue delphinium. The bride's 2½-year-old niece, Carol Rodgers, served as flowergirl. Her gown was of yellow and she carried a basket of mixed garden flowers.

The bride's brother-in-law, Peter Rodgers, Prospect Heights, served as best man to the groom and ushers were Henry Bouffard and the groom's brother, Robert Peterson, both of Arlington Heights.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors after which Mr. Peterson and his bride left on a 2-week wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells. Among the guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Fredericksen of Westbrook, Minn., Miss Edith Jorgensen of Alexandria, Minn. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas of Flint, Mich.

Mrs. Gronfeldt received the wedding guests wearing a pink linen dress with a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Peterson was attired in a black dress and stole.

The bridegroom, who is in the army, will report to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., June 29, while his bride will remain in Prospect Heights.

Virginia Carroll Weds Edward Moss

Before the altar of the St. John's Episcopal church in Mount Prospect, decorated with white carnations, snapdragons, and ferns, Miss Virginia Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Carroll of Prospect Heights, became the bride of Edward Moss of Arlington Heights, June 13. The four o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Chaffee.

Music was provided by Miss Elizabeth Koles at the organ and by Roger Spencer, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

The bride's gown was of white satin, lace and nylon net fashioned with a mandarin collar, long sleeves and train. She wore a fingertip veil set with a pearled cap and carried white carnations and lilies of the valley.

She was escorted to the altar by her father.

Miss Patricia Carroll, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a jacket-topper gown of pale green nylon net and carried yellow carnations.

Miss Joan Elliott and Miss Marilyn Cook, Prospect Heights friends of the bride, were dressed in pale orchid and blue gowns styled the same as that of the maid of honor.

The groom, who is the son of Edward Moss of Arlington Heights and Mrs. John Miller of Des Plaines, was attended by Charles Hermann of Des Plaines. Donald Kilroy and John Kilroy, also of Des Plaines, were ushers.

The dinner for the bridal party and parents was held at the Pantry in Park Ridge. Later in the evening a reception was held at the VFW hall in Mount Prospect for 250 guests.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is one obligated to give a wedding gift to a bride when one has already given her a shower present?

A. Yes; a shower gift does not take the place of a wedding gift.

Q. When "cutting in" at a dance, should a man lay his hand upon the girl's shoulder or arm?

A. No; he should touch her partner's shoulder and ask pleasantly, "May I cut in?"

Q. Is it all right for a person to compliment his bridge partner who plays a hand particularly well?

A. Yes, why not? A few words of praise for his skill are not out of place. But never, under any circumstances, criticize the play, even if your partner happens to be your spouse. This would be exceedingly ill-bred.

Q. Is it really considered good taste for a man to wear a handkerchief in his breast pocket?

A. Yes, it is. The handkerchief should not, however, give the appearance of careful arrangement.

Q. Are opera glasses considered stylish?

A. This is not a question of style, but of usefulness. Opera glasses are to help the spectator get a clearer view of the performers. It is not good form to use them between acts to stare at other persons in the audience.

Q. Would it be proper for us to mail out announcements of the adoption of a new baby, just as though it were our own child?

A. This is perfectly proper.

Q. When a young man takes two girls to the theater, is it all right for him to sit between them?

A. Yes, unless there is an aisle seat involved. Then he should, of course, sit next to the aisle.

Q. Is the engagement of a widow of 30 announced formally by her parents in the usual manner?

A. In this case, the news is usually passed informally to friends. However, it is quite all right to have the engagement announced in the local newspapers.

Q. A man whom I've always known as Mr. Johnson has recently been appointed a judge of a domestic court. Do I continue to call him Mr. Johnson?

A. No, you must now call him Judge Johnson.

Q. Is it proper to invite people to a shower who you know are not being invited to the wedding?

A. Most definitely not! Unless, of course, the wedding is to be so small that only the immediate families will be included.

First Drowning in Crystal Lake Since '36

When Edward Wobschall, 21 of Rochester, Minn., was drowned at the main beach at the lake Saturday, huge crowds gathered to watch a physician, firemen and lifeguards battle to save the young man. This was the first drowning fatality at the beach in more than 17 years.

Joan Sander Becomes Bride Of Ronald Thill

Baskets of white peonies and snapdragons decorated St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, June 12, for the marriage of Miss Joan Marlene Sander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Sander, 135 S. Pine ave., Arlington Heights, to Ronald Gene Thill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Thill, 101 S. Louis st., Mount Prospect.

Rev. L. V. Stephan officiated at the eight o'clock double-ring ceremony and the bride's uncle, George C. Sander of Milwaukee, served as organist. Soloist was Robert Languth. Selections were "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

White lace and tulle was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown which was fashioned with chantilly bodice and long sleeves, illusion yoke and full gathered nylon tulle skirt with peplum and skirt edged with handkerchief point chantilly. The chapel train of the gown was also edged with the lace. A coronation crown of seed pearls and rhinestones held her silk illusion veil in place and she carried a white orchid surrounded with stephanotis. Mr. Sander gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's cousin, Miss Beverly Toepper of Des Plaines, served as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown with white lace bodice over yellow taffeta and brief bolero jacket, also of white lace. The skirt was fashioned with a full six-tiered shaded nylon net skirt.

Miss Joyce Jannusch of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Arthur Mumm, Mount Prospect, served as bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's gown; Miss Jannusch's in nile green and Mrs. Mumm's in pink. They carried ballerina bouquets of miniature red roses.

Earl Meeske, Mount Prospect, served as best man to the groom and James Amann, Arlington Heights and Warren Osenberg, DeKalb, served as ushers.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Palatine Fireman's hall for 300 guests. Mrs. Sander received in an ice blue silk shantung dress with white accessories and a miniature light pink rose corsage. Mrs. Thill wore a powder blue lace dress with light blue accessories and a corsage of the miniature roses.

The newlywedded couple honeymooned in Northern Wisconsin. The groom, who is in the navy, will be stationed at Norman, Okla.

The new Mrs. Thill was feted at three miscellaneous showers before her wedding. They were given by Miss Jannusch, Mrs. Mumm, the groom's aunt and Mrs. Lawrence Moss, aunt of the bride.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the Christian religion, based on God's exact, fundamental laws as found in the Bible and demonstrated by Jesus, is a divine Science, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 28. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

The Golden Text is from I Peter (2:9) "Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible, (King James Version) include:

"And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people" (Matt. 9:35).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Jesus established what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught. This is the Science of Christianity . . . Denial of the possibility of Christian healing robs Christianity of the very element, which gave it divine force and its astonishing and unequalled success in the first century" (pp. 473, 134).

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

One of the hallmarks of writing style in TIME is the way they often handle obituaries After a fairly long character sketch, in the final paragraph there often occur these words, "Last week, as it must come to all men, death came to . . . " So it came last week to Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, And some may add, "A good thing too. It's just what they deserved."

But what does the death penalty mean? If a person is so thoroughly evil that there is no place on earth fit to hold him, we may kill him that he may be received into the everlasting torments of Hell. It seems to me that it has been a long time since I have met anyone with so literal a view of Hell. And, really, it behooves mortal man to be hesitant about deciding between those whom God will forgive and receive into eternal blessedness and those who will be consigned to outer darkness.

ON THE OTHER hand, there was an expression frequently used in the discussion about the Rosenbergs, that "they have condemned American young men to death . . . " Is death then a condemnation? It comes, as it must, to all men. Then, the question arises not over its coming but over the time of its coming. "Greater love has no man than this," said the greatest of all men, "that a man (die) for his friends."

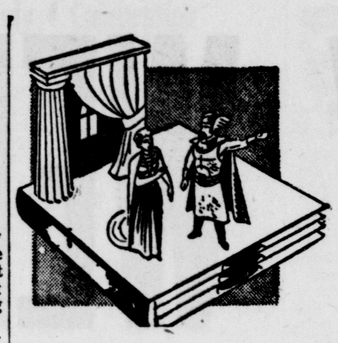

Men who die for their country and their fellowmen are not condemned to death. They may die untimely; they may die because of the mistakes or treachery of others. But this is not condemnation; at the highest evaluation, it may be an expiation, or a righting of past wrongs. This is not meant to glorify warfare as an atoning power: I think that I take a dim view of the glories of warfare. (I would maintain that the real horror of war is not the deaths that occur, but the brutalization of those who do not die and must fight their way back to "human living.")

MEN MAY die bravely for all manner of things. In the church, we remember with hope such as Joan of Arc or Bishop Cranmer, both of whom died without renouncing their faith or their dedication to the cause to which they had given their lives in so literal a fashion. At one of the early General Chapters of the Franciscans, a young and as yet untried monk ran about meeting all of the brothers. It was his hope to be able to say that he had known a martyr if there should be some before the next General Chapter when he too might be assigned to a mission field and enabled to be a martyr for his Lord.

"The tumult and the shouting" over the Rosenbergs subsides. They have become saints of the Communist faith, noble martyrs to the cause of dialectical materialism.

And we have hidden our faces, believing that death or the setting aside of the death penalty is an answer. Death or not-death is not an answer to the problems of living; life is the only answer to the problems of living.

1953 DANCE REVIEW

The Delores Eiler School of Dancing's 1953 review was a thing of beauty and will long be remembered by those who attended. The recital, combining the skills of ballet, toe, tap, acrobatic and baton twirling, was colorfully presented in the form of two fairy tales: "Alice In Wonderland" (Juanita Graves) and "Hansel and Gretel" (Sharon Bostian and Jane Hertel).

The delightfully clever choreography originated with Delores Eiler, and she did a superb job in designing the costumes. Mood changes were brought about for the most part by varied lighting effects, which were under the direction of Paul Breitsprecher of the Village Theatre.

Military fan-fares; ivory and gold majorettes tapping rhythmically; an interesting black-light baton twirling act, and an intricate toe-tap number opened the show.

The stage was then transformed into a park where "Alice" watched humanity dance by. There were hobos, comically attired, doing an interpretive dance full of difficult, slow motion acrobatics and extension leaps; tiny modern bo-peeps, cowboys and good humor men, in most appropriate costumes, tapped through the park, followed by little girls doing a rope-jumping ballet number. Nursemaids with baby buggies strolled, via ballet, with policemen, while petite, furry kittens summersaulted in front of Wonderland's rabbit, who performed acrobatics.

A lovely classical ballet number by "Alice's" sister closed the curtain. During scene II the Queen of Hearts, in modern ballet language, greeted her scarlet tap dancing pages; watched a "caucus race," flowers jete with honey bees, and "Tweedle Dee" and "Tweedle Dum" do a light comedy in ballet.

A fluorescent caterpillar awed the audience with a tap dance under black light. The Mad Hatter and March Hare did a comedy dance, while the card soldiers chased Alice into wakefulness.

The curtain opened, next, on a forest scene and "Hansel and Gretel" dancing an energetic acrobatic polka, their parents, a friendly black bird doing a jazz ballet, and colorful gypsies. Scene II, in front of the candy house, found them watching a tree do a graceful, classical ballet. Brilliant butterflies preceded a lovable, laughing wood nymph, and the forest fairy protected baby fireflies in the wake of a storm.

The lightning, an interpretative dance in classical ballet, was brilliantly done and followed by glistening rain drops and a rainbow, both petite groups dancing the ballet. Then came a refreshing surprise—from out of the witch's house danced peppermint sticks, gingerbread boys, cup cakes, hot tamales, miniature cocoanut bars (doing the hula), lollypops and finally the witch, who did an excellent job of interpretive dancing.

THE 7 DAY WEEKLY

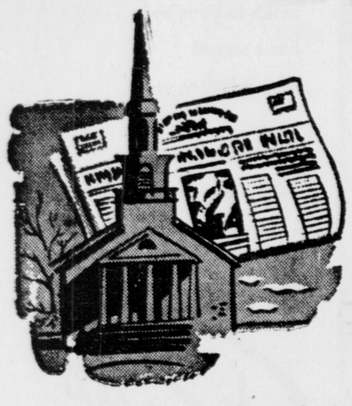

Ever notice how this morning's daily goes "down the stairs" into the basement by noon?

Ever notice how your weekly stays "in the rack", on the table and by the chair over Sunday, in many homes 'till Thursday when the next edition comes out?

That's because your newspaper is a
7 DAY WEEKLY

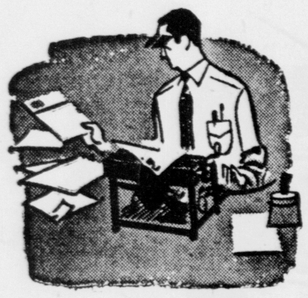

It serves the home, the family, the community seven days a week, not just a time killer for an all-too short two hours in the morning, or in the evening.

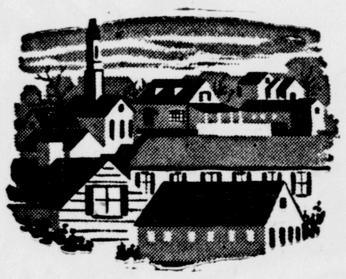

Religion is an important part of every week of every American, usually exemplified by church attendance. News of church activities, times of services, names of speakers are all of interest to local readers. That is the reason Paddock Publications EACH WEEK publishes news FREE OF CHARGE of 55 churches within its area of serving 21 communities.

Paddock Publications

Nine Phones For Service
CLearbrook 3-1520

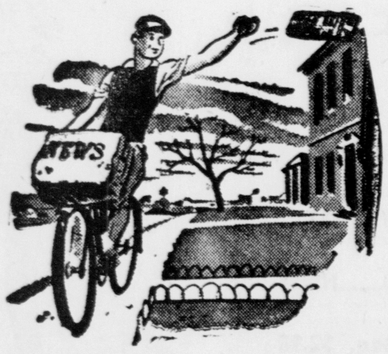

Monday is always a busy day for the 37 correspondents employed by Paddock Publications, 37 housewives collecting "locals" and other items about their neighbors, and getting them ready for the editors at the publication office. This type of news is rated most popular among our readers, and is an important part of Paddock Publications' seven-day-a-week program of serving 21 communities.

Community service has always been of utmost consideration in the editorial program of Paddock Publications, ever since H. C. Paddock established his home and business in Arlington Heights in 1896. He, his sons, and now his grandsons have extended that area to 21 communities, doing yeoman service in promoting betterment projects enabling fellow townspeople to get the most out of education, association and cooperation.

Wednesday is the big day at Paddock Publications, where more than 40 employees work extra hours to get the eight editions out on time each week. The employes work in Arlington Heights, but live in Palatine, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines and Bensenville, just five of the 21 communities served by your local newspaper. They have the same family interests of any of the 14,000 homes reached each week by Paddock Publications, the same problems, the same waiting for payday and weekly shopping.

More and more Paddock newspapers are being distributed Thursday. Some are sold at newsstands, some at drive-ins and grocery stores. Several hundred are delivered by carrier boys, while your local mailmen deliver more than half of the 14,000 copies printed each week. With news and advertising deadlines advanced, still more papers will be delivered earlier in the week in the future, all part of our job of serving 21 communities as thoroughly as possible.

What readers want is the prime goal of any newspaper, and Paddock Publications is no exception. With 6,500 persons buying our eight editions over the counter each week at ten cents per copy the editors feel they're selling papers to people who want 'em. Local features written by local persons about local subjects draw interest in all 21 communities served by Paddock Publications, keeping circulation and employment high with resultant benefit to local businessmen.

Advertising revenue is what foots the bill. News of special sales, new merchandise, the latest in fun and fashions are all offered local readers telling them what's going on in local stores. By presenting that advertising in attractive, eye-catching ways, housewives in the 14,000 local homes reached each week by Paddock Publications trade locally, keeping advertising money at home to further community churches, schools, shopping districts and friendly citizenship.

July 4 Celebration At Soldier Field

While thousands of Chicagolanders sit in the comfort and safety of the stands in Soldier Field, one of the greatest collections of daredevils ever assembled will stage two full hours of thrills on the evening of July 4.

The occasion is the 19th annual Fourth of July show—sponsored by the Cook county council of the American Legion—admission $1.25 reserved, 75c general—and the performance of the circus acts and stock car races will be capped by one of the largest fireworks displays ever exploded.

The gates will open at 5 p.m. and the program will start at 7:30 p.m. From 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. there will be auto races and circus acts. The fireworks display, the most lavish ever assembled, will start at 10 p.m.

Park Ridge Donates $6,760 to Educational TV Station in City

Park Ridge residents want Channel 11, the proposed educational TV station in Chicago.

That fact was established by the generosity of Park Ridge citizens who contributed $6,760 to the fund raising campaign for the station which is expected to go on the air next year.

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "There weren't but four people present." Say, "There were but four persons present."

Do not say, "The land, along with the houses on it, were mortgaged." Say, "was mortgaged." "Land" is the singular subject."

The pronoun "them" should not be used as a demonstrative adjective, as in the expression, "them papers." Say, "those papers."

Do not say, "He has a good plan to purpose." Say, "propose," which means to offer for consideration.

Do not say, "Where have the children gone to?" Omit "to."

Do not say, "We shall give the money to whomever comes first." Say, " to whoever comes first."

Words Often Mispronounced

Hauteur. Pronounce ho-tur, o as in hotel, u as in turn, accent second syllable.

Hospitable. Be sure to accent the first syllable, not the second.

Infamous. Pronounce the a as in ask (not as in fame), and accent first syllable, not the second.

Proviso. Pronounce pro-vi-zo, both o's as in no, i as in vine, accent second syllable.

Ducat. Pronounce as though spelled duck-at, accent first syllable.

Doughty. Pronounce dou-ti, ou as in out, accent first syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Ventilate; one l. Vacillate; two l's. Berth (place to sleep). Birth (coming into life). Shipping; two p's. Worshiping; one p. Gorgeous; eous. Glorious; ious. Discreet (prudent). Discrete (individually distinct). Monotonous; four o's.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Amoral; without a sense of moral responsibility; outside the sphere in which moral distinctions or judgments apply. (Accent second syllable). "By our standards of civilization, a savage may be judged amoral."

Satellite; an attendant attached to a prince or other powerful person. "Every royal personage is surrounded by satellites."

Prodigal (noun); a spedthrift. "Those who misspend time are the greatest of prodigals."

Scintillate; to sparkle or twinkle. "The beautiful stars scintillate on a clear evening."

Composure; calmness; repose. "It seemed impossible to break through the man's composure."

Concur; to coincide. "The members of the committee concurred when the matter was voted on."

Kitchen Komment

When ironing shirts, the job is made easier by sprinkling shirts with fine spray and folding them carefully as you go to prevent unnecessary wrinkling. Dampening with hot water penetrates the fibers faster.

If you want to dress up an inexpensive main course into a fancy main dish, with a French accent, here's how: Broil trout or a similar fish in the usual way. Shortly before the fish is done, make an amandine sauce by melting margarine and mixing chopped almonds into the margarine. Pour over the fish just before serving.

Pipe Smokers

Cigarette smokers are in the majority compared with pipe and cigar smokers. In Cook county, 54 per cent of the men now smoke cigarettes, 37 per cent smoke cigars and 24 per cent are pipe smokers. The total exceeds the 72 per cent who do smoke because some men smoke more than one form of tobacco.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Ding-Dong School

It may be summer time, but Ding-Dong School, the popular TV program for pre-schoolers, is still a favorite. Joan Elizabeth Carlson, the smiling little miss pictured first, is still a faithful viewer. She is the blonde and blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carlson of 310 Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

Joan, who will be four in August, has a very fascinating three month old brother, Ricky. "She loves to run errands for her baby brother and is most concerned when he isn't comfortable," remarked Mrs. Carlson. Besides watching Ricky, Joan likes to color with crayons, play in her sandbox and with her swing set.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson R. Knudsen of Forest Lake, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. David Carlson of New Richmond, Wis. are the grandparents.

Minute Mother

Here is another little girl whose "motherly instincts" are prevalent especially with baby sister in the family. She is Patricia Ann Corn, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corn of 826 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights. Patricia has wavy, reddish-brown hair and green eyes.

"Patricia loves to try to help with her little sister," explained Mrs. Carlson, "and she would try to feed her if I would let her." Playing outside in her wading pool, sand-box and with her swings keeps this little youngster busy most of the day.

SUSAN CORN

There are three other children in Patricia's family. Dicky, 8½, and Peggy, 7½, will enter the third grade at the Ridge school next fall. The baby sister, Susan Jane, is pictured next. Grandparents of the children are Mrs. Henry Bock of New Jersey, and Captain Rutty of Jamaica, British West Indies.

Baby Sis

Susan Jane Corn entered the family one year ago, but has already attained the position of "queen bee." Of course the baby is the biggest attraction in every family and as Mrs. Corn put it, "Susan has everyone running for her." Blonde hair, blue eyes, a friendly and sociable nature are characteristics of this little girl.

Out-Door Type

"Strictly the out-door type," was the description given about the young lady pictured next. She is Karen McReynolds, the two and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McReynolds of 538 S. Lincoln lane, Arlington Heights.

Karen has pretty light brown hair and blue eyes. In addition to being out-of-doors whenever possible, Karen takes a great interest in watching out for her little brother, Robbie.

Robbie, who is pictured last in today's representation of little folk, is one and one-half years old. He has light brown hair, blue eyes, walks well and is now learning to talk. Donnice, who will be five years old in July, is the "big sister" in the McReynolds family. She will enter the Dryden school kindergarten this fall.

Grandparents of the children are Mrs. G. E. McReynolds of St. Joseph, Mo. and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Weidler of Park Ridge.

About Your Health

Breathing is so automatic that very little thought is given to it. However, the process of breathing, inhalation and exhalation, is complex and involves numerous parts of the body together with a very sensitive control.

The air we breathe contains a high percentage of oxygen, which is so necessary for life because no cell in the body can function without it. Normally the air enters the body through the nostrils. Reaching the throat, it passes through the larynx or voice box into the trachea or windpipe which delivers it to the lungs. The trachea is divided into numerous subdivisions similar to the branches of a tree, each of which leads to a small pocket of lung tissue.

IN THE LUNGS, a chemical transformation takes place and the lifegiving oxygen passes into the blood stream which carries it along to the heart which pumps it to the rest of the body.

The entire respiratory or breathing process works in two directions. While the mechanics of inhalation send the oxygen on its way through the body, the waste products are also picked up by the blood stream and delivered to the lung where they are transferred to the air for disposal through exhalation or expiration. Passing from the lungs by way of the windpipe, voice box, throat and nose, the waste products are conveyed to the outside.

DURING THE process of inspiration or inhalation of air, the chest cage which is a vacuum enlarges as air is taken in. The expansion, interestingly enough, is caused by the contraction of muscles located between the ribs and the diaphragm, which separates the chest cage from the abdominal cavity. Normally the diaphragm is curved. As it contracts for inspiration, the muscles straighten into somewhat of a flat line, affording greater space which, in turn, allows more air to rush into the chest.

The process of expiration is much simpler, since it involves only the recoil of muscles and elastic tissues to their resting position. The entire mechanism is regulated by a special center in the brain, called the respiratory center. Normally, the respiratory center sends out about eighteen impulses a minute, each of which initiates one full cycle of inspiration and expiration. During excitement or fever the body needs more oxygen. To meet this demand, the respiratory rate goes up. While sleeping or at rest, the rate goes down.

Oak Park Federal Savings Open Friday Evenings

In keeping with the trend in financial circles and for the greater convenience of savers and borrowers, John P. Domeier, president of the fast growing $30,000,000 Oak Park Federal Savings and Loan Association, announced today that beginning July 6, 1953, Oak Park Federal will be open Friday evenings.

The new business hours for the summer will be Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and for greater convenience open Friday—12 noon to 8 p.m. The offices will be closed on Saturdays.

Western Electric Dance at Edgewater

There's a full moon guaranteed by the almanac on the night of Saturday, June 27, and the Western Electric company's Hawthorne club has made preparations to take full advantage of that astronomical prenomenon-Fact is, the employees' organization is planning to hold its "June Moon" dance on that date at the Edgewater Beach hotel, 5349 N. Sheridan rd., Chicago.

From 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. an anticipated 1,000 persons will dance to the music of Jack Holbrook's 10-piece orchestra, known for its radio and hotel engagements.

Rudolph Vasumpaur, 11 Hillside rd., Prospect Heights, is chairman of the dance committee.

New Baby

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neuman, 600 Oriole lane, are parents of their first child, Charles Lawrence, born Monday, June15, at St. Joseph hospital, Chicago. The baby weighed 8 pounds at birth. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Lawrence of Prospect Meadows.

Mrs. Coughlin, mother of Mr. rence, born Monday, June 15, at home after visiting her daughter in Northbrook.

Billie Cody, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cody, celebrated his sixth birthday Saturday, June 20, with a party for his friends at his home. Those present were Michael and Donald Carey, Michael and Richard Doyle, Tommy Seymour, Ricky Johnson and Dickie Cody.

Visit Family

Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Bramstad and three children of Eau Claire, Wis., have spent the past week with Rev. Bramstad's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Long.

David and Dickie Long are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bramstad in Lake Mills, Iowa. David will spend the summer there and Dickie will be home in two or three weeks.

The grandmothers Canasta club spent Tuesday evening at Kungsholm, Chicago, enjoying the puppet opera and dinner. The ladies who enjoyed the outing were Mrs. Daley, Mrs. Coughlin, Mrs. Stickrod, Mrs. Vartanian, Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Lowman and Mrs. Schuen.

A group of women from Prospect Meadows spent Thursday evening at Chevy Chase and saw "Love or Money," having dinner after the show. The group included Mesdames Vartanian, Orlowski, Kramer, P. Anderson, Leonhardt, P. Moeller, Derning, Kuntz, Brazeau and LeBrun.

Double Birthday

Tommy and Russ Ann Seymour, children of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, celebrated their birthdays June 13 by having a double birthday party. Tommy was 6 and Russ Ann, 2. Their little friends who attended were Mary Ann, Sharon, Michael and Richard Doyle, Donald and Michael Carey, Dick and Billie Cody, Jimmie and Stevie Creamer. Mrs. Creamer and Mrs. Doyle were also present.

Nancy Campbell of Hill st. was the victim of a freak accident last week while mowing the Devinger lawn. It seems Nancy was stooping to pick up some object in front of the mower, and, she not having shut off the mower, it started up and split Nancy's finger. The accident was serious enough to necessitate hospitalization for her at St. Francis hospital and also to have skin grafting done to the finger. It is hoped that this will in no way incapacitate Nancy's use of her hand in the future.

Wally Schauer is home from Korea. He arrived home unexpectedly last week, Tuesday, and we have been given to understand he won't have to go back to the fighting areas. Everyone is so happy for his family, and we all pray that soon all our young men will be back home for good.

The ladies who have been invited as guests to the Danny O'Neill show are reminded that the day is Monday, and those who do not have transportation are to get in touch with either Cora Miske or Magdalene Remsing before that day. The train leaves from Des Plaines at 8:55 a. m., and that is the train all must take in order to make the show, as it goes on the air promptly at 11 a. m. and all guests are to be in the studio before 10:30 a. m. for the get acquainted part of the show. All who are fortunate in receiving the extra gifts, if they care to, can donate them to the auxiliary to use as a money raiser. This is not a must, but only a suggestion.

The Suhrens, Gale, Eddie and Margie, are traveling by car to California to visit friends and relatives. The last report was that they were in Cheyenne, Wyo., and were having a wonderful trip. They left June 12 and expect to be gone for a month. This trip is part of a graduation gift for Margie and an anniversary gift for Gale and Eddie, their twenty-fifth.

The people who are planning on converting their gas stoves from bottle gas to natural gas, and those who have gas hot water heaters are asked to contact Public Service before letting the work out to private installers, as Public Service will charge only for materials used in the converting process. Gas for all purposes excepting heating, will be available as soon as the pipeline is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cully are the proud parents of a beautiful baby girl. This little lady has been on the expected list for quite some time but, as usual, the lady has a mind of her own. She wanted to be the first Father's day gift, so she arrived early Sunday morning at 3:30 a. m. at the Sherman hospital in Elgin. She has two brothers waiting at home for her to help spoil her, Milton Jr. and Paul.

Al Juhnke Jr., who recently returned from overseas duty with the army, has just purchased a new 1953 mercury.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Purmal and children, Janice, Jay and Dickie, visited at the Robert Hutchings home Sunday afternoon.

Wisconsin Visitors

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rescke were Mrs. Myrtle Stuartevant, Mabel Cliff and Clara Baukin, all of Beloit, Wisconsin. Mrs. Stuartevant, who is Mrs. Reschke's sister, plans to move soon to Albuquerque, New Mexico, where her daughter, Mrs. James Kennan resides.

Sunday visitors at the Fred Gorrs were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gorr of Chicago.

Triple Celebration

Bonnie Luczak's sixth birthday, Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Luczak's sixteenth wedding anniversary, June 19, and Father's day Sunday, were all celebrated on Bonnie's birthday. A wiener roast was held and the following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luczak, and children, Jerry, Kathy and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. John Phol, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brodnan and sons, Gary Lee and John Michael, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and sons, Michael, Jeffrey and Kevin, Miss Karen Angel and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jobin and children, Diane and Roger, of Palatine.

Rickie Jevne, who was three years old Sunday, celebrated with a party for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods and children, Bobbie, Gay, Betty Ann and Michael, of Crystal Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Garry and children, Ronnie and Penny, of Crystal Lake, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wood of Fox River Grove, and his great aunt, Grace Jevne, Oak Park. Miss Jevne was also a week end guest.

Canada Vacation

The Paul Pratchens will leave Thursday on a two week vacation to Dauphin, Manitoba, Canada, where they will visit Mrs. Pratchen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Basaraba.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burton and Jimmie drove to Potomac, Ill., to spend Father's day week end with Mr. Burton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burton.

W. H. Grismer Sr. was surrounded by all of his children on Father's day. They included Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Moehling and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swearingen and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and family and Miss Karen Angel.

Saturday dinner guests at the Tom Sullivan home were the L. V. Burghoffer family. Sunday guests were Mrs. Sullivan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Weber Jr. of Niles.

Billy Sundblad won two first prizes at the Illinois Tool Works picnic Saturday, which he attended with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sundblad. His gifts were a pail and shovel and a miniature garden tool set.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nolan, Chicago, were visitors at the home of the Chester Petersens Monday evening.

Pay more? What for?

Fifty Years Forward on the American Road

You don't have to pay costly-car prices for costly-car comforts. Ford brings you everything [and we mean everything] you've ever wanted in a car, at a price that's well within your reach! And according to recent surveys, a Ford returns more of its original cost when sold than any other car at any price!

Here are a few of the "Worth More" advantages you'll find in the '53 Ford:

1. A V-8 engine—powerful and smooth!
Ford's famous high-compression V-8 is a leader in quiet, flexible, economical performance. Ford, remember, has built more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13 million!

2. America's most economical Six engine!
If it's a Six you want, Ford offers you the high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker . . . the engine which, with optional Overdrive, won over all other cars, regardless of size or weight, in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run! And it's yours for the same kind of money that buys less modern sixes in other cars.

3. America's finest and most versatile automatic drive!
Fordomatic Drive is the "automatic" which gives you both the get-up-and-go of automatic gears and the smoothness of a fluid torque converter. If you choose Fordomatic, you will find that it makes all your driving easier . . . more relaxing.

4. Automatic gas savings!
Ford's Automatic Power Pilot (on Six and V-8) meters just the right amount of gas, times ignition precisely, burns fuel evenly and completely. You get full high-compression performance from every drop of gas—regular or premium.

5. America's newest and finest power steering!
Ford's Master-Guide power steering gives you new ease, stability and safety in guiding your car on smooth roads or rough. Your car gains in sure-footed roadability and you expend up to 75% less effort in driving—and parking.

6. Largest choice of models in the low-price field!
Ford alone gives you a choice of 18 different models . . . a SIX or V-8 . . . Fordomatic, Conventional or Overdrive . . . the widest variety of body, color and upholstery combinations. You can practically "design" your own Ford!

7. A body that's the style-setter!
Only Ford in its field gives you the advantages of a hull-tight Crestmark Body . . . the trend-maker in design and beauty. Ford's body is the longest and Ford's trunk, the largest. You enjoy more usable space.

8. New driving conveniences!
Ford's first in its field with such "Worth More" features as easier-acting, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes . . . foam rubber cushions on front and rear seats in all models . . . and convenient Center-Fill Fueling.

9. An automatically controlled ride!
When you Test Drive this Ford, notice how the wide front tread (widest in the low-price field) takes tilt out of turns . . . gives you a more level ride. With new "balanced suspension," new spring and shock absorber action and new rubber compression bumpers, road shock in the front end alone is reduced up to 80%.

10. It's worth more when you sell it!
An impartial survey of used car prices proved that Fords return a greater proportion of their original cost than any other cars in America. It's another fact to add to Ford's reputation as the "Worth More" car.

But don't take our word for it. Stop in and Test Drive this Ford for yourself. We predict you'll be sold before you're in second! It was true last year and it's even truer this year: you can pay more, but you can't buy better than Ford.

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT...
WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT... Ford

HENRY LOEB of Highland Park, the young man who won the western golf association junior championship on the Stanford university course at Palo Alto, California, is a veteran of two Illinois state high school championship teams. Loeb, a steady, consistent golfer, won a 5 and 3 victory over John Fry of Oakland, California.

Loeb never came close to winning first in the Illinois high school tournament, but the past two years has been medalist of the district tournaments held at Mt. Prospect golf club in 1952 and Old Orchard in 1953.

LAST FALL Edgar Lindenmeyer, one of the best football coaches in the Chicago area, had to give up his position at Lake Forest and take a leave of absence due to bad health. Roy Etnire took over in football.

Lindenmeyer returned this spring and next fall will be back as athletic director but will do no coaching.

Just recently Jim Nelson, a former Iowa State grid star, was hired as varsity football coach at Lake Forest. Nelson has coached Oelwein, Iowa, the past four years, winning two grid championships in the fast Northeast Iowa conference. Nelson will take over the varsity track coaching held by Art Serfling, but the latter will retain varsity basketball and assist in football and track. Lake Forest, under Serfling, won the Palatine Relays the past two seasons.

LIBERTYVILLE WON ALL EIGHT track meets on their schedule this past spring beating Palatine, Wauconda, Warren, Zion-Benton, Woodstock, Crystal Lake, and Lake Forest twice.

Joe Ray scored 215 1/3 points for Coach Bob Kelton's Wildcats who won the North Suburban championship and took third in the Lake County meet behind Highland Park and Waukegan.

North Chicago, a school which will not have a building until the fall of 1954, has accepted a bid to play in the DeKalb holiday basketball tournament December 27-30, 1954.

WHAT A CHANGE 25 or 30 years can make in the attitude of the general public. We recall back in 1921 when we were asked to become a member of the local semi-pro baseball team in a small Iowa town. One of the questions being debated was Sunday baseball.

In most communities the teams had to fix up ball diamonds outside the village limits due to local ordinances and the bitter opposition of the church organizations.

We recall having the police come on the scene midway in a game at Rockford, Iowa, and stop the proceedings on complaint of the ladies aid of one of the churches. However, the pastor of our church used to greet us before the Sunday evening service and find out the details of the afternoon game. He was an interested baseball fan who wished the teams could play midweek or Saturday so he could attend. However, farmers and everyone else had to work during the week.

Now it seems that Sunday sports activities are pretty well accepted. The incident which brought this home to us the other day and caused the comparison above was a little circular we picked up after having lunch in the Village Inn in Palatine.

It was advertising put out by the Chamber of Commerce for their Sunday night softball games with a long list of sponsors and supporters. Every church in Palatine was listed.

Opinions certainly have changed since the early twenties.

PALATINE'S MATT MERFELD has been named co-captain of the Illinois Tech track team for next year . . . Matt is a middle distance runner . . .

George Halas

Cooling thought on a hot day: As of Saturday morning there was $432,000 cold cash in the till for the hot and cold Chicago Bears, as reported by owner-coach George Halas.

Northwestern university has announced an attractive home football schedule for fall which includes Iowa State, Army, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Wisconsin and Illinois . . . The Wildcats play Michigan, Ohio State and Indiana away from home . . . Six-foot-eleven inch Bill Schulz of Hebron is definitely slated for Northwestern . . . Hiles Stout of Peoria Central has signed for Illinois.

Milt Sprunger, assistant secretary of the IHSA, was married this month to Edna Neaderhouse of Fort Wayne . . . Sprunger is "the leg man" on many of the IHSA activities, including several basketball games this past season at Arlington.

New frosh basketball coach at Crystal Lake is Bob Cronister, DeKalb graduate.

Philadelphia Phillies tryout camp is being held at Wing park, Elgin, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week . . . Fan-shaped, glass backboards have been installed at Joliet high school for the benefit of fans sitting at the end of the gym . . . Calumet Farm has two legs on the Equipoise Mile trophy, to be up for grabs again Saturday at Arlington Park . . . Sun Again in '44 and Fervent in '48 . . . Once more and it'll become permanent.

Redwings Lose 4-2 Contest To Chicago Firemen

Arlington Redwings semi-pro baseball team lost to Chicago Firemen Sunday afternoon, 4-2, in a tight battle won by the firemen in the final inning. The locals have a 2-4 mark thus far.

The Redwings have been playing all games at Recreation park Sunday afternoons in Arlington Heights, but starting July 5 some games will be played away from home due to lack of enough attendance at games.

This coming Sunday, June 28, the Redwings will play host to Union Park Tigers. Last year the locals edged the Tigers, 8-5 and 4-3.

THE REDWINGS started fast Sunday, scoring twice in the initial frame. After Connie Hernbrott grounded out, Gail Bach rapped an infield single, followed by singles by Lloyd and Spinks. After Sarina fanned, Simpson singled with Spinks trapped at third.

Thus things stood until the fifth when Bierman was on base on an error for the firemen. Harwell grounded out, but Casey singled the run home.

The firemen tied the count in the eighth on a walk to Casey, single by Inouranti and a long fly to center, scoring Casey.

AN ERROR, two walks and a double put the firemen into the lead, 4-2, in the ninth, with the Redwings threatening in their half.

Three straight singles by Bach, Lloyd and Sinks filled the bases with none out, but Bach was caught on a fielder's choice and Sarina and Simpson were put out via a double play.

Bill Stretton was on the mound for the Redwings.

O'Day Realtors Still Lead By 1 In Tuesday Golf

For the third straight week, the George O'Day Realtors held on to first place in the Mount Prospect twilight league, Tuesday division.

The Realtors won only 5½ points from Van's Gift Shop, but they still remain in first by a slight margin.

Mount Prospect Electric slipped into second by virtue of a seven point win over the Mount Prospect Jewelers. Keefer's Pharmacy fell to third when Wille Lumber and Fuel beat them, 7-3. This win moved the Wille outfit from sixth to fourth.

Only five players scored birdies. Chuck Wrobel was tops with birdies on the 1st and 9th holes. Other birdie shooters were Jim Driscoll on the 2nd, Hank Baylis on the 10th, Dick Carney on the 15th and Howard Feige on the 16th.

Merchants Rally Twice To Tie

Mount Prospect Merchants Little League team played host to the White Cap Giants, current leaders of their Little League in Chicago, Sunday.

The Giants jumped into a 2-0 lead in the second inning and the Merchants fought back, scoring a run in their half of the second.

In the third, the Giants increased their lead to 3-1 when Hempeling, who had walked, scored on Cahill's double. Soenksen's double with the bases loaded scored Peterson and Tews to tie it up at 3-3 in the Merchants' half of the third.

IN THE FIFTH the Giants again took the lead, 5-3, as Kronkiew doubled with bases loaded. Again the Merchants came from behind as Peterson, Tews, and Thill singled. Soenksen again doubled and scored on infield plays. The Merchants led, 7-5. The game ended at this score as the Giants failed to score in their half of the 6th.

Merchants play host to Evanston June 28 as they try to bring the best in Little League to Mount Prospect. Game time is 2 p.m. at School and Busse sts.

Rendezvous Slumps, Hugh's Auto Body In First In Roselle Golf

While the Rendezvous Cabin team was slumping into third place Monday night, Hugh's Auto Body proved to the Bakers they will have to be reckoned with before anyone walks off with the trophy in Roselle golf league play at Glendale.

The race itself is the closest in years with first place changing hands regularly. This situation has kept interest high, competition keen, and appears to be the pattern that will remain to the end of the season.

Last week's mention of trades has boiled down to a one player deal, Karner putting Roloff out on waivers and if the outlook doesn't improve, he'll be optioned outright to the girls' league.

Hugh's Auto Body	69

Mt. Prospect Merchants Win Eighth in Row

Mount Prospect Merchants rolled to their 6th, 7th and 8th straight wins in the Northwest Suburban Little League this past week. This puts them in first place with an 8-0 record.

The Merchants defeated Wheeling Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening of last week, 8-5. Wheeling Amvets bowed Friday night, 25-4, to the Merchants with Denny Hahn pitching his first game, a four-hitter, for the winners.

The Amvets bowed again to the Merchants Monday in Mount Prospect.

Phillies, Red Sox Win in Prospect Hts. Little League Play

In a Saturday, June 20, double header, the Phillies lambasted the Braves, 20-2 and the Red Sox beat the White Sox, 13-3 in Prospect Heights Little League play. The Cardinals continue to lead the league with the standings as of June 20 as follows:

	W	L
Cardinals	3	0
Phillies	2	2
Red Sox	2	2
White Sox	2	2
Cubs	1	2
Braves	1	3

The Little League committee is still working on preparations for the All-Star game July 12, and the ball field at Elmhurst and McDonald is beginning to take on the aspects of "Beautiful Wrigley Field." One section of bleacher seats has been set up and Carleton Smith has erected a steel fence along the first base line.

A flagpole now stands in deep center field for the long ball hitters to shoot at. It's a hefty drive, but the kids can't be blamed for trying.

Very shortly, the players will be around selling tickets for the game, and a packed house should inspire a well played ball game.

Sundbergs Make Clean Sweep In Wednesday Golf

In a grim effort not to be dislodged from their first place position, Mount Prospect State Bank shook off their recent slump and trimmed Hook's Nursery, 7-3, in Wednesday night's play of the Mount Prospect twilig... league.

The Nurserymen had been nipping at the Bankers' heels from the third place spot for several weeks but Wednesday's defeat dropped them into fourth behind Barclay - Clearbrook Engineers who whipped Busse-Bierman Hardware 8½ to 1½ to take over third. Busse Motors, meanwhile, with a 7½ to 2½ victory over Annen & Busse, Realtors, grimly hung on to second place, a mere 2¼ points out of first.

THE OUTSTANDING performance of the evening was a clean-sweep by Sundberg's Store for Men who lifted themselves out of the cellar with a 10-point victory over Van Driel's Drugs, who apparently could not stand the prosperity of their two consecutive victories of the preceeding weeks. The defeat dropped them back into the now familiar basement.

All players seemed to be rounding into mid-season form as old man par took a pretty good beating. Birdies were scored by M. Weber and Bob Mors No. 3; Dick Wistar No. 5; Len Johnson, Jr. No. 10 and 12; and Don Beneke and Elmer Walters No. 18.

Boys To Select Names And Colors Monday Night

by BOB PADDOCK

As thorough an organization of any baseball league in these parts was indicated Monday night of this week when the first meeting of the Arlington Heights Little League was held at Recreation park.

More than 100 boys and 100 adults attended the first session with initial plans and rules given both groups, plus initial organization of a women's auxiliary. That was the setup Monday with an additional meeting for adults only slated for this Thursday evening, June 25, at 7:30, at South school cafeteria. The boys will meet again Monday night at 7:00 at the stands in Recreation park.

THE MOMENTUM which Little League is taking hold in Arlington Heights surprised many. Seventy-five adults registered at $1 per head Monday, indicating a sincere desire to help the youth of today in a baseball program.

The women's auxiliary was announced to give help in keeping records, scores, averages, and do the thousand things so necessary to successful operation of a Little League.

Large number of boys, as well as adults, reporting assured Arlington Heights a league of at least four squads this year, possibly six. "We'd rather do a good job with four teams," stated acting president Lloyd Taylor, "than do a poor job with six or eight squads."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS of the not-for-profit corporation, Arlington Heights Little League, is scheduled for Thursday night's meeting at the South school. Officers of the women's auxiliary will also be the order of business with women interested in helping the group to contact Mrs. H. R. Jacobsen at Clearbrook 3-1746.

Particularly interesting in the turnout of adults this week was the large number of unmarried adults and childless parents interested in the program. About three coaches per team will be necessary for best operation of the league, so plenty of adult help is needed, as officials as well as coaches.

KIDS' MEETING Monday night will include rosters, team names and colors. The league will not gain a franchise until next year, after organization is completed this season, including constitution, officers, schedule and records, nor will uniforms be purchased this year.

With continued interest of both parents and boys a full uniformed league will be in operation next year, with both pony and minor leagues also hoped for. The expected four teams this time will probably bear the names of four local service organizations, the Lions, Kiwanis, Legion and VFW.

BUT COMPETITION will be even. That was stipulated in plans of the organizers with all money turned in for team sponsorship to go into the league treasury and dispersed for the league in general, rather than to any certain squads.

The 1953 schedule will be announced Monday night with play to start soon after. Actual instruction of the boys is under direction of Russ Attis, recreation director of the park district, and Bob Spinks, gym instructor in the junior high school.

Further details of the organization of the Little League will be released next week. The splendid recreation facilities of the park were stressed at the meeting Monday, with the foresight of original park planners commented.

Wins Letter

Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rogers of 244 N. Benton st., Palatine, has been awarded a minor letter in recognition of his service this season as an outfielder in baseball at Wheaton college.

Inverness To Be Host To 80 Lady Golfers In District Play

Ladies day last Wednesday at the Inverness golf club was highlighted by a golf clinic and exhibition sponsored by the Croydon golf equipment company with Frances Mahoney of Gary, Ind., in charge. Mrs. Mahoney, a petite lady professional, discussed and demonstrated all kinds of golf shots.

She asked the Inverness ladies to pick out difficult locations from which she demonstrated how to get out of traps, creek banks, long grass, bad down hill lies, and other trouble spots. She showed unusual skill on all kinds of trouble shots suggested and made shots with a five wood which few of her spectators could duplicate with a driver.

WEDNESDAY was also victory day with each member paying an entry fee of $1.00 for special competition, the proceeds going to the veterans program of the western golf association. Prize winners were Jane Hodgson with a net of 72, Ginny John with a net of 74, and Ethel Footh with a net of 80.

In the usual Wednesday competition, prizes were given for low net in each class. In class "A" the winner was Jean Cunningham with a net of 83. The class "B" winner was Ethel ooth with a net of 80. Ginny John with a net of 74 was tops in class "C."

This week Wednesday, June 24, was guest day with special prizes for competition between guests as well as among the members. Mrs. John Coates is chairman of women's golf.

INVERNESS will be host to team competition among members of the Chicago district golf association with about 80 ladies competing, July 16. Palatine's team in recent district comp tion has been Mary Coates, Jean Lee, Katy McIntosh and Agnes Teuteberg.

Last Friday evening in the first husband-wife competition at Inverness the Way Thompsons were the winners. Following the golf competition, players and many other club members enjoyed a barbecue picnic supper served by Jack Harris, club house manager, and his staff.

Sunday the Inverness junior girls group staged a father-daughter two ball foursome tournament. The winners were as follows: Low gross — Monnett Smith and father Charley, 94, and low net — Sue Carpenter and father Craig, 65. Mrs. Chas. Smith is chairman of the junior golf activities. Sixteen father-daughter combinations played in the tourney. There are 31 girls between the ages of 12 and 18 who take part in the junior program.

WHICH LEAGUE IS BEST?

Just which twilight golf league is the toughest this year may be proven Sunday, August 16, when Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap tournament is held at Inverness country club. Former Paddock Publications Golf Tournament Entries Represent Eleven Businessmen

Eleven types of businesses have been represented by teams in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournment, it was revealed this week in summarizing tourney results the past three years.

This summer's tournament will be held at Inverness country club Sunday, August 16, with first place teams of August 1 in eight local leagues eligible.

Five businesses have been represented twice. Whitton Realtors and Lingren's Men's Wear made it in '51 and '52. L-Nor Cleaners had two entries in 1950.

TWO OTHER TYPES of businesses, both represented by different firms, include garages and electric shops. Hugh's Auto Body made it in 1951 and Busse Motors in 1952. Mt. Prospect Electric rated the tournament in 1950 and Rhodes Appliance in '51.

Other entries in '50: Arlington Bank and Hopper's Triangle Lounge. The following year there was also Hook's Nursery. Last year Wulbecker Furniture, Urick Landscapers and Norm's Grocery were other entrants.

THE WINNERS the past three seasons have been Arlington Bank with a net of 285, Hook's Nursery with a net of 301, and a tie last year between Wulbecker Furniture and Whitton Realtors with 286. Furniture boys won the toss for the trophy, though members of both squads were given first place medals.

General rules of the tournament include first place teams as of August 1 eligible, with league officials to be the final authority for each entry. Team entry fees of $10 will be paid at time of entries, most of them by the respective leagues. The sawbuck will cover only the greens fees, with Paddock Publications taking care of all other expenses.

THE TOURNAMENT has always been strictly an inter-league affair. There is no recognition for individual play. Only regular players of first place teams will be eligible to compete, except in case of emergencies to be decided upon by league officials.

Handicap for the tournament is eightly per cent of the difference between a player's average nine hole score and par for the course on which he plays, including fractions, multiplied by two to obtain the 18-hole handicap. Nearest figure will be used.

In event of tie for first place, as happened last year, both teams will be declared winners though a flip of the coin will determine who gets the traveling trophy. Individual medals will be given members of first, second and third place teams.

To Dedicate New Amvet Diamond In Wheeling Sunday

The two Wheeling teams of the Northwest Suburban Little League, lost three games this last week. Two games were very close, with the Mount Prospect Lions beating the Wheeling Amvets, 12-9, and the Mount Prospect Lions beating the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce, 5-4. The other game was a 25-4 loss by Wheeling Amvets to Mount Prospect Merchants.

Eddie Bellmore led the hitting for the Amvets this last week with two home runs and a single.

WORK ON the new diamond in the Amvets Park is coming along nicely, says Edward Welflin, who has promised the boys that this coming Monday they will play their first home game on the new diamond. Work on the backstop should be completed this week-end and the infield part of the diamond will also be in tip-top shape.

Fans are invited to come out and see this first game at the new park. There will be distinguished members of the community present to help initiate the new diamond. Visiting team will be the Mount Prospect Lions. The game will start at 6:30.

Satterfield to Meet Baker in City July 1

Bob Baker, fourth ranking heavyweight in the world from Pittsburgh, Pa., has been signed to meet Chicago's Bob Satterfield, in the ten round main event in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday, July 1.

This will be the first Chicago appearance for Baker, who in the past has plyed his trade in the East, taking top contenders in the heavyweight division. Bob was on the sidelines for a few months, due to fragile hands, but has since recovered and mended well.

"Slammin" Bob Satterfield, currently rated as the 6 leading light-heavyweight in the world, was also a victim of injuries, but has since bounced back with two quick knockouts. On the Marciano-Walcott show May 15, Bob stiffened Murray Burnett in three rounds, and on June 3 in St. Louis, Bob knocked out Gene Brown, proving further that the south sider can still punch with authority. Satterfield has engaged in 46 bouts, winning 30, losing 14, and boxing two draws.

Bears Open Public Season Ticket Sale

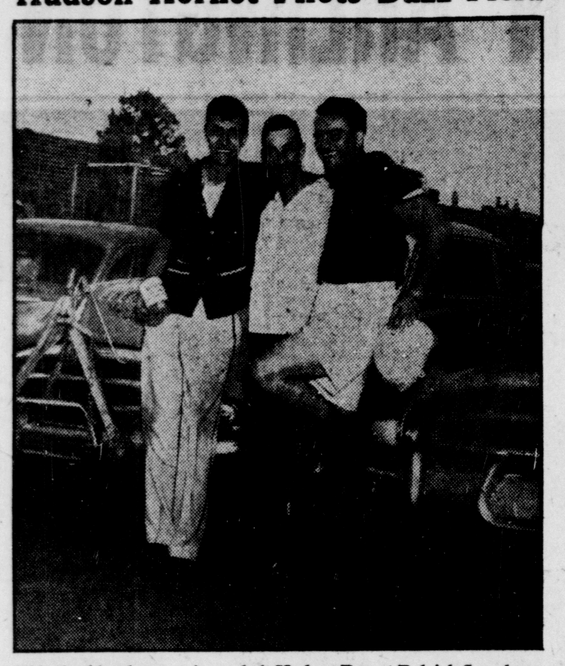

The public season ticket sale for the 1953 home games of the Chicago Bears opened Monday.

All season tickets not renewed by last year's subscribers went on sale, at the Bears' office, 233 W. Madison st., Chicago.

Opening their league schedule against the Baltimore Colts Oct. 11, the Bears' schedule grows steadily tougher from game to game. Next to come to Wrigley Field will be the San Francisco 49'ers, whom the Bears knocked off their winning stride in one of the most startling reversals of form registered anywhere last season.

The Green Bay Packers, always deadly rivals of the Bears, appear next at Wrigley Field Nov. 8, followed by the champion Detroit Lions Nov. 22. Trailing the championship team, comes the tough Los Angeles Rams Nov. 29, and then occurs the season's climax with the Bears' cross-town rivals, the Cardinals Dec. 13.

Hudson Hornet Pilots Buzz Field

This tired but happy trio made it Hudson Day at Raleigh Speedway, N. C., by finishing first, second and third with 1953 Hudson Hornets in a 300-mile Grand National Circuit stock-car race. Winner was Fonty Flock (right), of Decatur, Ga., who averaged 70.61 mph for the grueling grind. His brother Tim (left), took second-place honors. Herb Thomas (center), Olivia, N. C. sawmill operator, placed third.

Golf Tournament

A golf tournament for members of Philip Carpenter Post 66, Wheeling Amvets, will be held at the Arlington Country club next Sunday, beginning at 3:00 p.m.

Palatine Softball Team to be Host to Hottentots July 12

Softball fans of this area are going to have a treat Sunday evening, July 12, when the Palatine softball team will be host to the famous colored softball team, "Chicago Hottentots," in a game at Palatine community park.

The Hottentots are to softball what the famed Harlem Globe Trotters are to basketball and their antics on the diamond, aside from their ball playing, is an evening's entertainment in itself.

The Hottentots are no strangers to this area as two games played at Barrington before huge crowds a couple of years ago can testify.

The antics the colored boys put on include the third baseman running to first to make a put out instead of throwing the ball, playing an inning or so with all the fielders laying down as if taking a nap, and winding up an inning with only the pitcher, catcher and one outfielder on the job.

The visitors' clowning depends, of course, on how close the game is, but in most contests they find plenty of opportunity for their monkeyshines.

Wheeling Merchants Lose to Niles, 9-8

Wheeling Merchants' Pony League baseball team lost a heart-breaker Friday evening to Niles, 9 to 8.

This was Wheeling's best showing of the season both offensively and defensively. In an attempt to get better pitching, Gilman, the regular left fielder made his debut as pitcher and worked the first four innings in surprising fashion.

Home runs were hit by Ray Horcher, Norman Jesse and Richard Brame.

Arlington Man Heads Polo All-Stars Sunday

The second game of the indoor-outdoor polo season saw the Green team defeat the Blue All Stars 9-7 at the Rollen Rock Polo Club, Devon and Dee Road, last Sunday at 3 p.m. The All-Stars are captained by Billy Miles of Arlington Heights.

The only place in the Chicago area where this version of the age old game is played, it is distinguished for swift change of possession of the ball, concentrated action, and plenty of body contact between both mounts and players.

Chukkers last 7½ minutes, and a game may be any number of chukkers from four to eight. With three players on a team and fresh mounts each chukker, this calls for a minimum of 24 horses. The ball is of inflated leather about the size of an indoor basball, and the field is roughly equivalent to a football field.

Next Sunday, June 28, the Blue All Stars play the Red team at 3 p.m. There will be games both Saturday, July 3, and Sunday, July 4.

Captain of the Reds is George Maher, old favorite of polo fans who has seen plenty of action in the Chicago avenue armory in the indoor season.

Miles tallied six of his team's seven goals in last Sunday's loss, playing number two position. Herb Barth of Chicago, playing number one, accounted for the other goal.

Palatine Softball Team Loses In Ten Innings

by MOOSE FOSTER

Palatine lost to Oak Park 9 to 7 under the moon and lights in Community park Sunday in a 10 inning game.

An enthusiastic crowd watched in shirtsleeves as Palatine fought back from a 7 to 2 deficit to tie the game in the eighth frame.

In the first Wickershan, Palatine's heavy hitting first baseman, slashed a triple down the first base line, driving in the first run of the game. He scored a moment later on a single by Hefferan.

IN THE SEVENTH inning, Mussom, second baseman for Palatine, hit a home run with two men on. In the eighth, Palatine scored two runs on two errors and a hit by Dickinson.

This Sunday, June 28, the Aurora Rowdies will be at Palatine.

Palatine's Little league boys played a thrilling 8 to 3 ball game starting at 6 o'clock.

The following members of the Palatine chamber of commerce donated the prizes for the evening.

Pearce's — 3 pair of nylons; Cork and Bottle—set of Hostess glasses; Moore's Jewelry—3 pc. clock set; Country Cobbler—$5.00 gift certificate; Zimmer Hardware —Whistling tea kettle; Smith's Food Shop—$5.00 gift certificate.

White Collar Drivers Enter Auto Races, too

Top honors in the Soldier Field Stock Car races do not always belong to the drivers of transcontinental trucks, the mechanics or others associated with automotive industry. Recently salesmen and white collar workers came to the fore and now a floral motif has entered the picture.

Lou Fegers of Glenview, who owns a well known nursery and has designed and planted many beautiful gardens in north shore estates, defying race track superstition by driving a car painted as green as the grass he grows, has entered the first five in the Soldier Field point standings mainly through one feature race victory and one third in the event gained last week. Then too, there is Wally Lynch who has qualified for each of the seven feature events held this season and is usually among the front runners driving a car with intriguing title "The Black Orchid," sponsored by a prominent local florist.

It takes all types of drivers from all walks of life to make the major league of stock car racing in Soldier Field. Fegers and Lynch will be among the 80 or more in the large field for Wednesday and Sunday nights races, all desirous of cutting down the lead of Kenny Netzle, the Chicago mechanic, now at the top of the Soldier Field point standings with three victories in the main event.

Illini Grid Tickets Selling on Schedule

Season ticket sales for Illinois' 1953 football season are on a par with those of a comparable period last year, George A. Legg, ticket manager, announced.

"We expected a slight drop since we have six home games as against five in 1952, but thus far interest evidenced by orders has been just as great," Legg said.

The homecoming game with Michigan November 7 is leading all games to date, with Minnesota October 17 running a close second.

The Illini open September 26 against Nebraska, meet Stanford October 3, Minnesota, then Syracuse October 24, Purdue October 31, and wind up at home with Michigan.

Games on the road are October 10 at Ohio State, November 14 at Wisconsin, and November 21 at Northwestern.

Palatine Trims Northlake, 7-2; Lose To Park Ridge

The Palatine Junior Legion baseball team duplicated the previous week end record with an even break in two league games. The Palatine boys beat Northlake 7-2 on Saturday and lost to Park Ridge 17-13 on Sunday.

Tom Hillesheim fanned 16 batters and allowed Northlake only two hits in the Palatine 7-2 victory. Palatine had only six hits but used five of them to help score runs.

In the first frame Kolze tripled. Hapke was safe on an error, Kolze scoring, Hamilton was hit by the pitcher, and after Christensen filed out to center, Culver and Beyer hit safely to give Palatine four runs

IN THE FIFTH Palatine scored three more runs when Kolze drew a pass, Hamilton singled, and Dale Christensen hit a home run. Seven batters in a row hit safety in the fourth inning for Park Ridge as they beat Palatine, 17-13, in a wild free hitting game. Park Ridge got 16 hits off Roger Kolze to Palatine's nine. Seven bases on balls and five errors hurt Palatine's chances. Hunt of Park Ridge got a home run with two on in the fifth inning. Roger Kolze and Larry Hapke each got two hits for Palatine and the latter had a three bagger.

WEDNESDAY Palatine lost to Arlington Heights in a non-league game, 5-3. Maher had a single and triple to lead the Arlington hitting, which totaled seven safeties off Bob Hamilton. Ryden pitched for Arlington, allowing only four hits but he walked four men in the first inning to force in a run. A walk to Cornwell and hits by Hillesheim and Kolze produced Palatine's other two runs in the fourth.

Bakala drove in Thomas with a single for Arlington in the third. Four straight hits by Maher, Sieburg, Hersch, and Lemke gave Arlington three in the fifth. Maher tripled and scored on a passed ball in the sixth.

Annual Meeting of High School Association

The Wisconsin interscholastic athletic association will act as host to the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the national federation of state high school athletic associations to be held at Lake Delton, Wis., June 28-July 2.

The executive officers of the Illinois high school association and members of the IHSA board will attend the meeting and will participate in the program.

The five-day session will be devoted to the problems of the state associations both in connection with the high school activities (athletic and extra-curricular), finances, health and expansion of the NFSHSAA.

One topic of national interest will be the baseball situation as regards signing of high school players and try-outs for them during the year.

Arlington Legion Nine Whip Mt. Prospect And Northlake

by BOB FRISK

Extending their unbeaten string to four straight games, Arlington's Junior Legion baseball team, Poole Fords, edged Mt. Prospect, 5-4, and routed Northlake, 12-2, in two recent ninth district contests.

Southpaw Mike Shanklin picked up both wins for Lloyd Meyer's outfit, hurling the final 4 innings against Mt. Prospect and the full seven frames at Northlake.

An erratic Mt. Prospect defense handed Arlington a 5-4 win at Recreation Park June 19. The victors collected only three hits off Doug Winkleman, but capitalized on six errors for their five runs.

AFTER MT. PROSPECT had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning, Arlington came back to score twice in the second and once in the third.

Shanklin took over the host nine's pitching duties in the fourth, relieving starter Dave Ryden, but he lost his control and walked the eighth and ninth hitters in the batting order. Gerry Sauter then slammed a long triple to right, driving in the tying runs.

Sauter scored on an error and the visitors moved in front again this time, 4-3.

ARLINGTON bounced right back with a single tally in their half of thefourth, then pushed across the winning score in the sixth on two Mt. Prospect errors.

At Northlake last Sunday, Jack Sieburg rapped a third inning homer to provide the impetus for Heights' first big offensive show in this season's Legion play.

The Fords scored a single run in the first, two in the third and then paraded thirteen batters to the plate in a big seven run sixth.

ROG THOMAS, Ted Bakalar and Bob Dotts each clouted triples in the big inning and Ken Lemke got an infield single. Bakalar's hit was his third of the game.

Three hits and an error gave Northlake their two runs in the sixth. Arlington got their eleventh and twelfth scores in the seventh on two hits, two errors and a wild pitch.

This Friday evening, June 26, Arlington will meet Palatine at Recreation Park, starting at 6 p. m.

The team has received 18 baseballs and a dozen bats from the metropolitan Ford dealers association.

Suburbs Bible Church Trackmen Place First In Meet at Wheaton

At the annual Chicago area Christian service brigade track meet held June 13, at Wheaton college, the Brigade and Stockade clubs of the Northwest Suburbs Bible church placed first in the junior and senior divisions. Eight teams from the Chicago area participated in the meet.

The 18 points which placed Palatine first in the junior division were scored as follows: Paul Wagner, first place in the 50 yard dash; Robert Nordin, first in high jump and broad jump, and third in the baseball throw.

Palatine did not enter the intermediate division, but in the senior division, placed first with 43 points. The Gil Dodds special trophy was awarded Paul Hess who holds it for a year. Paul won the mile race in 5:01 and placed first in the 440 yard dash.

Jim Hess won the 100 yard dash in 10.6, the shot put with 34 ft. 10¼ in. and came in second in the low hurdles. The 75 yard low hurdles were won by Allen Sommerfield in 10.08 who was also first in the broad jump with 19 ft. 5¼ in. and second in the 100 yard dash.

Ronnie Bessemer tied for first place in the pole vault at 7', and George Petersdorf placed second in the shot put.

The Christian Service Stockade and Brigade clubs welcome any boy between the ages of 8 and 18. A varied summer program has been planned which will include swimming, hiking, camping trips, baseball and other activities. The Stockaders, for boy 8 to 12, meet every Thursday at the church at 7 p.m. Brigade for boys 12 to 18, meets Monday, at 7 p.m.

Mount Prospect Beats Prospect Heights Little Leaguers, 3-2

In a June 18 twilight game Mt. Prospect again squeezed out a one run victory over Prospect Heights, this time by a 3 to 2 score.

Prospect Heights, led 2-1, until the fifth when Job's long triple to left center with a teammate on base tied the score. Job himself scored on an overthrow over third and that was the ball game.

Don Haley went all the way for the losers.

At Illinois Tech

Norman E. Oltendorf of Palatine was among the 418 students who received degrees at Illinois Institute of Technology's commencement exercises at Orchestra hall.

Ninety of the graduates received advance degrees, and 328 received bachelors degrees. Dr. John T. Rettaliata, president of Illinois Tech conferred the bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering on Oltendorf.

Oltendorf lives at 20 N. Hale st., Palatine.

At Lake Forest

Audrey Jean Fiddler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Fiddler, 304 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, received her B. A. degree in history from Lake Forest college.

Miss Fiddler was a staff member of the Forester and the Stentor, Lake Forest college's year book and student newspaper.

At Shimer

Roberta Wickersheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Wickersheim, 35 S. Kerwood st., received academic honors at the convocation of Shimer college, Mt. Carrol. Academic honors are awarded to students comprising the top ten per cent of the student body in scholastic achievement.

Miss Wickersheim holds a scholarship at Shimer college from the Ford foundation for the advancement of education. She has been a student at Shimer the past year, and expects to return this fall to continue her work toward the bachelor of arts degree.

At Purdue

One hundred and seventy-seven students from Illinois were among a total of 1,304 attending a distinguished rating in their scholastic work at Purdue university during the second semester of the 1952-53 academic year.

To attain this rating, a student must make a grade point index of "5" or better for all subjects carried during the semester.

Among Illinois students attaining this rating were Bob Schaal, 1012 Angle ave., Northbrook, junior in civil engineering, and James Marzen, 325 S. Cedar, Palatine, freshman in engineering.

At Illinois

Harold James Hestrup was graduated with high honors in a class of 2700 Sunday, June 21 from the University of Illinois. Harold, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doyle, Palatine, received a B.S. degree in architectural engineering.

ADD ILLINOIS — BOB ....

Attending the commencement exercises were his wife, Lorene, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doyle and his relatives, Mrs. John Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grimm, Mrs. Anna Colanis and Ray Colanis, all from the Arlington-Palatine area.

Bond Purchases

Residents of Cook county purchased a total of $19,085,164 in Series E and H United States savings bonds in the month of May 1953. Sales of E and H bonds were 50.9 per cent higher than in May of 1952.

Total sales of E and H bonds in the State of Illinois were $31,372,269. This is an increase of 51.2 per cent over sales in the State in May 1952.

In Texas

Bryan Air Force Base, Texas, jet pilot school, is the summer encampment scene for Verne F. Busse, 900 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, and two other Air Force ROTC students from University of Colorado. For thirty days they are living the life of active duty air force personnel, flying in jet aircraft, studying aeronautical and military subjects and absorbing the principles of leadership and discipline expected of Air Force officers.

Sixty air force bases opened their gates to 17,000 college students Sunday now engaged in upper level AFROTC programs. One summer encampment during the junior or senior year is required for completion of the course and eligibility for reserve commissions.

In Mediterranean

Serving in the Mediterranean with destroyer flotilla 4 aboard the USS Vogelgesang is Donald J. Sauter, quartermaster seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sauter of Mt. Prospect.

Between periods of training the ships expect to visit ports in the Mediterranean and to allow the crews opportunity to sight-see in five countries and make tours to cities of historical interest.

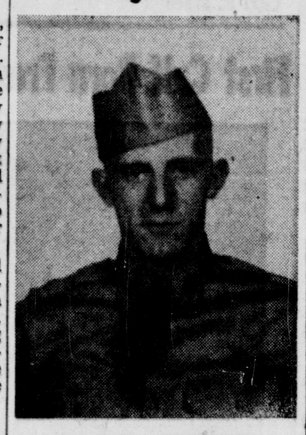

In Texas

James E. Barrett, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barrett, 512 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, who has been at Lackland air force base, San Antonio, Texas, graduated from the USAF pre-flight school, having successfully completed the initial phase of the aviation cadet training program.

The graduation was marked at a parade and assembly of the 3740 pre-flight training group. This organization conducts the introductory course for all students enrolled in both pilot or aircraft observer training.

Watch for Nitrogen Shortage on Pastures

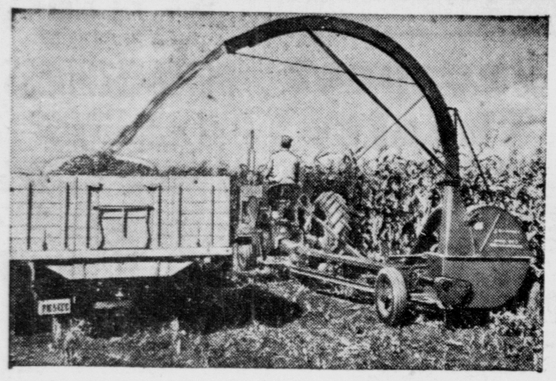

Many permanent pastures begin to show their first signs of a shortage of nitrogen at this time of year, says Frank Purnell, extension soil conservation specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture.

An easy way to tell whether your pastures need nitrogen is to compare the amount of growth and color between most of the pasture and the areas around urine spots and droppings.

Where nitrogen is in short supply, you'll be able to spot the droppings easily by heavier and greener growth of the grass.

If your permanent pastures look as though they need more nitrogen, you can help them along by renovating them and reseeding with a mixture containing legumes in late summer or early spring.

You can also put on nitrogen in chemical form before growth starts in the spring or in late summer.

Hog Raisers Setting Stage For Price Fall

It looks now as though hog raisers are working themsel.es into a jam, like the one that's worrying beef men, by setting the stage for a collapse in hog prices.

Capper's Farmer field editors say the trouble will come next year with the 1954 pig crops. "If you want some evidence, look around in your own community. Count the sows and gilts. You'll find more than a year ago," say the editors.

The situation seems to be the same everywhere, they add. Most meat producers consider hogs a safer bet than cattle now, so they're adding extra gilts to push up the fall pig crop. And they're holding back more tried sows, too.

HOGS HIT $23 April 21 at all of the big markets and stayed above that figure throughout the period when sows are bred for fall pigs. Thus it took about 15 bushels of corn to buy 1 hundredweight of live hogs. (That's a corn-hog ratio of 15 to 1. A ratio of 12.5 to 1 usually will make farmers increase hog numbers.)

The wide spread between corn and hogs made steady producers increase sow numbers, and it brought in-and-outers back into the hog business with a bang.

In their eagerness to increase numbers, hog growers have been acting precisely as beef men did in 1950 and 1951. They snapped up extra breeding stock, which shortened market supplies. That pushed prices higher to create a desire for still more sows and gilts.

A survey of the corn belt indicates 10 to 12 percent more fall pigs can be expected: "Sow sales at eight big hog markets in the corn belt were 20 percent below those of 1952 for the first 17 weeks of 1953, instead of the 10 to 12 percent expected.

Clip Weed Crop In Your Pasture

What are you going to do about those weeds in your pasture?

You wouldn't let them grow in your corn or soybeans, says Ernest D. Walker, soil conservation specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Yet weeds steal just as much plant food and water from pastures as from grain crops.

Get out the mower and clip those early pasture weeds to reduce competition for the grass and legumes. Clipping will also keep the weed pests from going to seed to cause more trouble next year.

Another clipping in August will get the later weeds.

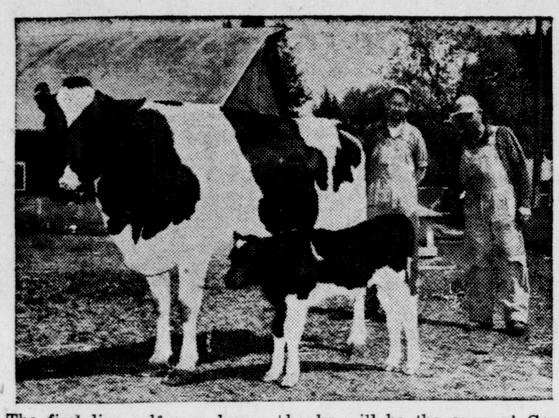

Get New Silage Booklet for Farms

You can make grass-legume silage whether you have a conventional-type silo or not.

H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture, says that a new booklet called "Grass Silage in Stacks and Trenches" will tell you how. Ask your county farm adviser for a copy.

The booklet tells how to make silage and how to estimate the volume you'll need for storing it. It describes different types of stacks and trenches and gives methods of building and filling them.

First Calf Born From Frozen Semen

The first live calf ever known to have been born in America from frozen semen was "dropped" on the farm of John and Melford Hill of Rt. 1, Janesville, Wis., Friday morning May 29, according to a report released by the Wisconsin scientific breeding institute.

This marvelous discovery can very well make is possible for a single proved bull to have possibly as many as 100,000 offspring through artificial breeding. While now three out of every four cubic centimeters of unfrozen semen is wasted, with frozen semen, every cc could be used. There will be fewer bulls in the stud, but better bulls producing many more offspring. This discovery will make possible a far wider distribution of the influences of great proved sires.

It will be possible for the average farmer almost anywhere in the country to have the mating of his cows to the best breeding bulls in the world at probably no more than the regular charge now being made. Semen banks will be the answer! Commercial breeding organizations will build up banks of semen from their sires during the slack breeding season, thus obtaining the most economic use of the bull.

THESE SEMEN banks will make it possible for dairymen to have service from a bull long after he has died. In natural service it is considered good if a bull has a few hundred offspring. Artificial breeding has boosted that figure into the thousands, and now with frozen semen, it could very well be into the hundreds of thousands.

Semen to be alive and of good quality must of necessity be frozen carefully through the low temperature range of 40 degrees Fahrenheit to -110 degrees Fahrenheit (temperature of dry ice) and there held until used. The British scientist discovered that this could only be done by using glycerol as a buffer with semen, properly cooled. The action of glycerol in the solution prevents injjury to the sperm during the freezing and thawing.

Don't Let Your Children Ride Tractors Here

When children and tractors are involved in accidents, it's generally the children who are hurt most.

Every farm parent must take the responsibility for preventing such accidents, says John W. Matthews, executive secretary of the Illinois Rural Safety Council.

Parents should not let small children drive, play on or go along as extra riders on moving power equipment.

HANDLING a tractor under most farm conditions requires mature skill, coordination and judgment that most youngsters 11 years old or even older do not have. Of course, children vary a great deal in these capacities at certain ages. One youngster may be mature enough to operate complex machinery, while another at the same age will not be.

Parents are in the best position to judge their children's abilities. However, because of pride in their children or because of a shortage of help, some parents have failed to exercise good judgment. The result has sometimes been a crippling accident or even death.

EACH SUCH accident adds to the pressure for legislative control that is not the best answer to the problem. So don't send a boy out to do a man's job. His life is not the only life you may save.

New Insecticide Rushed to Fight Armyworm Hordes

Introduction of a powerful new weapon into the battle against the armyworms destroying corn and grain crops in the Midwest raised hopes the current rampage of the insect hordes can be stopped dead.

New hope for farmers in the path of destruction follows granting of official label acceptance by the U.S. department of agriculture for use of dieldrin against armyworms. Dieldrin is recognized as one of the most effective weapons available.

The areas hit by armyworms are receiving rush shipments of dieldrin, a versatile agricultural insecticide already widely in use against other crop pests.

Long a plague feared by farmers across the nation, armyworms are at present causing wide spread losses in Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio following outbreaks in the southern states. Some entomologists have reported that the current outbreak is the worst in more than 50 years.

Vegetable Queen Contest Extended

The closing date of the 4th annual American vegetable queen contest has been extended to July 1 by Paul Ruetenik, national chairman, Vermillion, Ohio. The state queens will be judged for the American Vegetable Queen crown on December 4 at the 45th annual convention of the Vegetable Growers Association of America, at the Chase Hotel, St. Louis.

Local associations or unmarried daughters of bonafide vegetable growers between the ages of 17 and 23 will promptly receive full information about the contest by writing Mr. Ruetenik.

That Grazing Woodland Causes Double Trouble

Graze your woodlands and you'll find yourself with double trouble on your hands, says Gordon Cunningham, extension forester at the Illinois college of agriculture:

1. Your livestock will not gain as they should.
2. The quality and quantity of your timber will drop.

Make up your mind whether you want to raise livestock, or trees on your land, and then drop the other, Cunningham suggests. Otherwise you'll be losing out of both pockets.

APPARENTLY many Illinois farmers have already found that grazing woodlands doesn't pay. In 1925 three-fourths of all Illinois woodlands were grazed. Today that percentage has dropped to two-thirds. That's still two-thirds too many acres, the forester points out.

In a test at Purdue University a steer given six acres of open woodland to pasture lost 15 lbs. between May and mid-August. In comparison, steers on Illinois improved grass-legume pastures have gained 250 pounds on one acre.

SHARP HOOVES of grazing animals damage shallow feeding roots of young trees. Bruised and cut roots are also a point of entrance for many tree diseases that can reduce your wood crop.

About a dozen or so native wild plants are poisonous to livestock, Cunningham says, and you will risk losing some of your animals if you turn them in to your woodland. Oak leaves, for instance, are poisonous to animals. Grazing oak seedlings not only will poison your animals, but will destroy replacement trees that would some day be valuable as lumber.

Renovating Pasture Cuts Forage Costs

It seems expensive, but renovating pasture actually brings forage costs down to the level of hay at $7 a ton.

That's what men at Wisconsin college of agriculture told a Wisconsin father and son partnership. "But," the two objected, "we'd lose a year of pasture."

"Seed oats as a nurse crop, and graze them," Vic Burcalow, pasture specialist told them. "They will give you more feed than poor Junegrass."

The son and his dad tore up 10 acres of pasture, relates Capper's Farmer. Four tons of lime and 500 pounds of 0-20-20 an acre were applied. Sod was disked and cross-disked, then worked six times with a quack digger to root out old grass thoroughly, and make a fine seed bed.

The two men sowed oats, and seeded 8 pounds of brome, 8 of alfalfa, 3 of medium red clover and 1 of ladino an acre. Cost was $40 an acre. The pasture is now producing four times as much feed as before, and the quality is far better.

Record Cows

Two registered Guernsey cows owned by Gertrude McNaught, Elgin, have completed official advanced registry records.

On three times daily milking for 365 days, Foremost J. C.'s Dolly, a junior two-year-old, produced 10744 pounds of milk and 537 pounds of butterfat. She is the daughter of the outstanding Guernsey sire, Foremost J. C., that has 18 sons and daughters in the Performance Register.

Lockshore Topaz produced 10943 pounds of milk and 566 pounds of butterfat milked twice daily for a ten-month period, as a junior three-year-old. "Topaz" is the daughter of the outstanding Guernsey sire, Gardenville Merry King, that has one son and nine daughters in the performance register of the American Guernsey cattle club.

'From Hatching Egg to Egg' on Farm TV Show

The history of the broiler—from hatching egg to tasty outdoor chicken barbecue—will be shown on "Farmtown, U.S.A.," Saturday, June 27.

Those who fancy themselves expert back yard chefs will get some valuable tips and new ideas on barbecued chicken from Kathryn B. Niles, home economist for the Poultry and Egg National Board.

George Menard, "Farmtown" master of ceremonies, will interview Miss Niles and Seth Foster, who raises thousands of broiling chickens annually near Franklin Grove in Lee county.

Foster, who follows the latest methods of broiler raising, now uses a new type of house which can handle 16,000 birds. He will bring several broilers to the studio. Foster will also display some five-week-old turkeys of a new variety.

"Farmtown, U.S.A." is presented by the Illinois Agricultural association and the Pure Milk association. It can be viewed at 5 p.m. (DST) over station WBBM-TV, channel 4.

Roger Ferron, manager of Holy Ghost convent, Northbrook, receives trophy for highest producing Holstein cow from John Henrich, Arlington Heibhts, Arcadia feed dealer.

Roger also received a trophy for highest producing Holstein herd. The trophy was given by W. C. Hoppe, local Purina feed dealer. Mr. Hoppe was unable to be present for the picture.

Hattendorf Winner of Save Your Soil Contest

Emil Hattendorf, Schaumburg rd., Hanover township, is the winner of the "Save your Soil Contest," for Cook county. He will now compete with other county winners in the Northern Illinois Land Use Council Area.

There were several entries in the North Cook county area. All are doing a good job of saving their soil for a more profitable production.

The "Save your Soil" contest is sponsored by the state department of agriculture and the local soil conservation districts.

Auction sale every Friday, 11:30 D.S.T.

300 to 500 head of Feeder cattle for Friday, June 26. These cattle will weigh from 400 to 600 lbs., will make good cattle to go on grass, 50 head of them, White faced cows due to calf later, one carload of cows and calves.

We are receiving a large number of this class of cattle at the present time. I think it will be a good time to buy these cattle because they are at an all time low and probably will not be this low again for some time.

Handy Jim's FIXIN'-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

'Floating' Shelf

ON A VACATION trip by automobile, space usually is at a premium. A midwest vacationer cleverly used the upper portion of his auto trunk for extra suits and coats, leaving the interior free of clutter and with unobscured vision.

Here's what he did:

Suitcases were packed in the trunk first, so arranged that they would support evenly a portable shelf. Next he cut a piece of Masonite Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick, to the available width and depth remaining. In that way, the shelf didn't slide around.

He then placed the panel on a table, laying the coats and suits on it, one over another. To keep the clothes free of dust and any rain that might leak into the compartment, he wrapped them in a plastic cloth. The bundle then was tied up loosely with light cord and placed atop the suitcases.

This tourist reports that the clothing made the 2,000-mile trip "in perfect condition." If needed at a stopover, the board would be taken into the room and unpacked; otherwise, it remained in the trunk.

"It's the easiest and best way of carrying extra clothes in a car," he said. "The back seat riders particularly appreciated the full view they had, as there were no suits and coats hanging over part of the windows."

Farm Prices Level in Spite of Ike's Move

Average prices of farm products have not changed much since the new tenant moved into the White House. The average for May was slightly less than one per cent lower than in February, the first month under the new administration.

Average prices of things farmers buy have eased off a fraction, too. The result is that prices received by farmers in May averaged 94 per cent of parity—the same as in February.

Compared with a year earlier, average prices received by farmers in May were down 11 per cent. Average prices paid by farmers were down 4 per cent from the all-time recorded 12 months before.

Consumer demand for food increased during the year, but not enough to keep prices at the levels established by previous inflation.

Two highly important crops showing big increases in production in 1952 over 1951 were corn, 15 per cent, and wheat, 32 per cent. Production of soybeans, cotton, and tobacco was also much larger than average, although not larger than in 1951.

Total agricultural production was 3½ per cent larger in 1952 than in 1951 and 45 per cent greater than in prewar 1935-39.

198 Flags Burned At Crystal Lake

The second annual flag-burning ceremony again proved an educational and impressive event in Crystal Lake.

The ceremony was opened by Commander Carl B. Peterson and then followed numerous parts by various Legionnaires when the use of the flag was explained. The uniformed firing squad participated.

A total of 198 flags were then burned, this being the authorized way for flag disposal. Many of the flags were those removed from the graves of veterans which were placed there just before Memorial day. National headquarters require that these flags be removed.

See Shortage Of Wheat Storage Facilities

Illinois farmers were warned they are faced with a serious shortage of wheat storage facilities.

This warning note was sounded by Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

"Farmers in the state are just beginning to harvest a crop estimated at more than 48 million bushels," Shuman said. "Latest figures show we already have twice as much wheat stored in Illinois as we had a year ago, plus other large stocks of corn and soybeans. This indicates there isn't going to be enough terminal elevator storage space to take care of this year's wheat harvest."

ONE THING farmers can do to help solve the situation is to provide more on-the-farm storage, the IAA president said. "If farmers will hold some of the wheat on their farms, it will help ease the critical situation. However, these facilities must be of good quality in order to hold wheat," he said.

Another thing farmers can do, according to the IAA president, is to be sure wheat is in good condition when it's harvested.

"Wheat harvested when it's too wet is not suitable for storage even if facilities are available. Moisture content of wheat being harvested should be 12 per cent or less. Wheat harvested with a higher moisture content may be dried, but drying facilities may be overloaded because of the bumper crop."

Lack of storage room is costing farmers a lot of money, the IAA president said. He cited as an example the recent sharp decline in wheat prices.

1878

It was an important but unheralded June day. The first Bell Telephone exchange in Illinois was opened in Chicago at La Salle Street, north of Madison. "Mr. Smith" had one of the 75 newfangled Bell telephones in his office. To place a call required about six complicated operations and as long as twenty minutes. And if "Mr. Smith" were in a hurry, chances were the boy operators would tell him to "hold his horses." The boy operators weren't as courteous as today's "voices with a smile." Of course, "Mr. Smith" couldn't call "long distance."

1953

This week marks the 75th anniversary of Bell Telephone in Illinois. "Mrs. Smith" of 1953 calls her husband to tell him Junior wants to take his "hot rod" to school. Her local calls go through in an average of 25 seconds. And, no distance is "too long" now. She can reach millions of telephones most anywhere in the world, including phones in autos, trains, airplanes and ships. "The Smiths" take their phone for granted—a part of their everyday living.

2028

What kind of telephone service will you and "the Smiths" have in coming years? This we can promise—telephone people, never satisfied with just good service, will continually try to make it better as the tempo of American life requires. In a few years, new equipment will make it possible for you to dial across the nation as easily as you now call across the street. Bell Telephone Laboratories has opened new fields with its transistor, the "might midget" of electronics. Many are the communications wonders "on order" for tomorrow's better telephone service for your community, for Illinois, and for the nation.

Study Effect Of Truce In Korea On U.S. Economy

Many farmers and other businessmen are growing more apprehensive about the economic prospect. The truce developments in Korea have added to their fears.

Time alone will reveal what is ahead for us. The reason is that actual developments will depend upon many personal, corporation, and government decisions that have not yet been made. Nevertheless many management decisions must be made on the basis of good, or poor, guesses as to future prices, employment, sales, etc. Perhaps a review of some of the basic facts about our economy will make better decisions possible.

IT IS POSSIBLE, that the feeling of caution that has prevailed generally among farmers and other businessmen in recent years is a good thing. It may have served to prevent excessive speculation and expansion that could have been followed only by serious recession and depression. If our expansion has been cautious, recessionary tendencies will be less pronounced.

The past nine months have been a period of unusually high-level activity and stability. Prices of raw materials, including farm products, have worked lower, but there has been little change in average retail prices. Almost everyone who was able and willing to work has had a job. Most manufacturers have operated at full capacity and have been able to sell all they produced. The purchasing power of farm products has averaged above normal. These much-desired conditions are unlikely to prevail for any long-continued period.

THE BOOM of the past three years (since Korea) was created and has been sustained largely by borrowing by individuals, corporations, and local governments. Now numerous individuals and families have so many "easy payments" to make that it is difficult for them to meet their other expenses. This is a potential against fire, windstorm, explothe other hand, capital expenditures (for new plants and equipment) by corporations seem likely to continue high for some time, while outlays by local governments may increase.

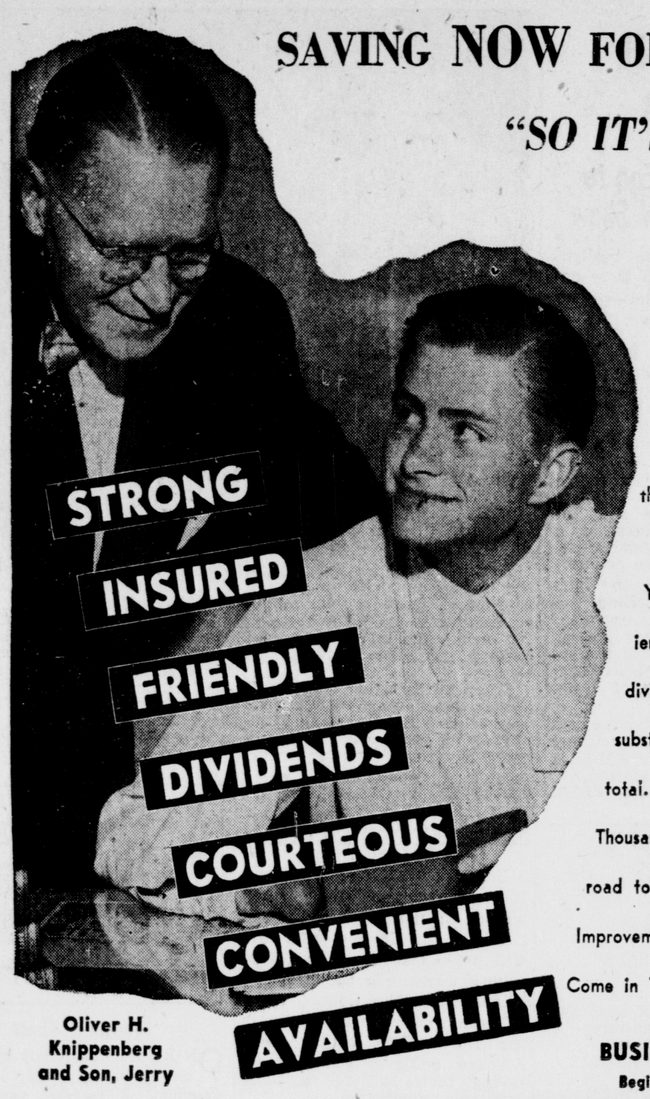

Since World War II changes in business inventory policies have been important factors in determining the level of industrial activity. Any widespread policy of business inventory reduction could create considerable unemployment as it did in 1949.

The housing boom has been running high for seven years and probably is scheduled to slow down in some areas. Any slowing-up in business expansion would probably make more loanable funds and easier credit available for housing.

The grand opening of the new building of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Des Plaines at 749 Lee st., Des Plaines, will be celebrated with a ten-day house warming from July 2 through July 11, it was announced by Walter L. Plew, executive officer.

Founded in 1933 to serve the people of Des Plaines and surrounding suburbs, First Federal Savings has grown out of its former quarters and now will be housed in one of Chicagoland's most modern savings and loan structures. Under Mr. Plew's leadership, the association has grown steadily and can today boast assets in excess of $8 million.

The new building was designed and built by the Chicago Bank Equipment Company and Paul Schwender was the general contractor. Outside it is handsomely finished with imported marble.

Inside are such up-to-date features as a complete air conditioning, heating and ventilating unit, recessed lighting, Acoustone tile ceiling, Terrazzo flooring, walnut and marble counters and an entirely new vault for safe deposit boxes.

The house warming celebration will be highlighted by an exciting grand opening contest with a prize of a vacation trip via TWA Sky Coach to any place in the United States. In addition, there'll be gifts for savers, souvenirs for visitors and even something special for youngsters.

PLAIN TALK

Packing for a vacation leaves mother quite exhausted. We will take six times as many clothes as we will need, to be prepared for all emergencies, and the awful thought occurs to us that whether needed or not, it will all come back mussed and dirty and have to be laundered.

It is something of a gamble to return to a former vacation spot as we are doing. In our memories, it was the most charming lodge, nestled in a valley in the Rockies. The food was wonderful, accommodations perfect. The whole trip was glamorous. We were there some years ago, making us just that much older for mountain climbing and horseback riding, and besides the children are going along this summer.

It's a shame to leave the garden right now. The lettuce is delicious, the raspberries are coming along, and the regal lilies and Shasta daisies will bloom while we are gone.

Summer theaters are one of the nicest things about summer. We're more tolerant than the drama critics; and find the obvious efforts of the performers to put on a good show make up for the lack of finesse.

No apologies were necessary for the production of "The Song of Hiawatha" at Big Timber Boy Scout camp near Elgin last week.

Twenty-five years ago the pageant originated as a camp fire program given by the boys at camp. Its popularity has increased each year, until now it attracts folks from distant places, and the nightly audience is in the thousands.

The natural setting and stage effects that have been developed through the years make it a memorable spectacle. We stongly recommend that folks who have never witnessed "The Song of Hiawatha" watch for its return next summer.

"How about a few appropriate lines about blaring radios?" a friend suggested. With windows open in summer, a neighbor's radio can be a real nuisance if it is thoughtlessly run at full volume all day long, but to our mind it's a downright disturbance of the peace when they deliberately set the radio in the window and turn it up so they can listen while sitting or working out in the yard.

Some enterprising ad man should work up a sales promotion for the handy little portables they can carry around with them and play softly.

The general idea is if you want to listen to the radio, you'll turn your own set on, but you don't want to have to listen to the neighbor's program.

At a recent men's club meeting, the boys usurped a female prerogative and chattered incessantly. Finally the chairman, unable to get order by usual methods, shouted "Quiet." It worked.

This story brings to mind a thought that has been floating around in our sub-conscious for some time. Acoustical tile ceilings are standard equipment in schools today, to cut down the noise the youngsters make. Wouldn't it be far cheaper, and maybe helpful to their character development, to clamp down on the noise-making Home discipline has relaxed, the teachers answer, so how in the world can one teacher keep a whole roomful quiet? We're old fashioned and "sot" in our thinking that children can learn proper conduct just as well as their three R's.

Ground has been broken for two new homes on our block. "Oh boy," said the little boy, "more friends for me." (There are already 15 boys under 12.)

"There goes our ball field," said the athletic sub-teen.

"Noise and dirt all summer," moaned mother.

When the houses are finished and the folks move in, we'll all walk over and say "Welcome neighbor."

The men coming home on the 6 o'clock trains these hot nights have a bigger head of steam up than the engine. Their remarks about the service are choice. It seems those improvements promised at the time of the fare increase are still promises.

The cars have baked in the sunny yards all day. The road bed is dusty. That's bad enough, the commuters feel; but to have to pay the higher fares and still stand all the way home, with very little standing room in the crowded aisles, well, that's too much.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Perhaps Mable X, whom I have known for many years, would have had a happier life with her children if they had been more considerate of her. Although she has never told me so, I am sure that her life with them must be lonely and bitter. Everything that she says and does proclaims a personality seeking vainly for recognition and respect.

You see, Mable has a common outlook on life, but an unfortunate one. I know many young people who see life through the same unhappy glasses that she sees it. She is one of those persons who is determined to judge everything and everybody by her own standards. If the house is not cleaned at the same time and manner as her own home when "paw" was alive, her children are not good housekeepers. Because her children's children are not trained according to her standards, they are bad mannered and disobedient. Because her daughter-in-law goes to young folk's clubs, afternoon teas, and is active in civic affairs, she does not love her family and tries to shift all of the work on poor old grandma; this despite the fact that a woman does the cleaning and washing twice a week. Because the cleaning woman "don't ever do anything right," Grandma has to set everything to rights again when she leaves.

OCCASIONALLY grandma "goes away for a spell" just to "show the young folks they need me." But what grandma does not know is that every day of her absence is a holiday for the whole family.

Which just goes to show that no person in the world is so important that they can't be gotten along without; and which should also wake up prospective grandmas and mothers-in-law to the fact that love and respect have to be earned every day that they live.

Grandma comes from a proud family that is going to "stick up for the right." I think that Hades must be full of such people; because right and wrong are not always black and white; because circumstances and personalities always alter cases; and because when you are grandma or mother-in-law in son or daughter's home, they are the bosses, no matter how much grandma may have wielded the scepter in her heyday.

No one can "bite the hand that feeds them" and at the same time expect to be loved and respected—no one—not even grandma!

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg

It's so trite, but I can't help saying, "My, how the time flies!" I doubt if a birthday or anniversary goes by, but that we all don't think this very same thought. And, you know what? It really isn't "flying" at all — it just seems so, the older we get. With this cheery thought let me tell you about Bridget's first birthday (where did this past year go—it was only yesterday that she was born!). I might as well warn you right now that I'm going to rave about her—a privilege that I believe is every mother's at least once a year.

We celebrated the birthday Sunday at Manapisu with Gramma, Grampa, Edward, George and George's school friend who is visiting. Bridget's day dawned as warm and blue and white as any summer day could, and just for her, the very first rose in Gramma's rose garden broke out of its tender green covering and stood in all its pink glory. (I'm sure the rose is better known by another name, but to us it will always be the "Mary Bridget" rose).

WHEN BRIDGET awoke on this lovely morning, we dressed her in one of the two birthday sunsuits "Nana" had sent to her. She sent one pink and one blue, made exactly alike, and really they are the prettiest I've ever seen. Made of a sheer seersucker, they have an inch wide ruffle of lace around the bib part and the edges of the bloomer-like panties. The straps cross in back and tie in a bow, and a satin ribbon comes from the back to tie in the front.

We put her in her playpen in the center of the terrace, and sitting in the middle looking like the chubbiest, frilliest, cupie doll you ever saw, she watched Megan playing on her swing and "slicky-slide," Mama hanging up diapers, and Gramma going in and out of the back door, trying to prepare the birthday dinner and visit with the birthday child at the same time!

Whenever any of us came near the playpen, Bridget would scramble to her feet and demand (in a language all her own) to be picked up.

However, if we went on about our activities, she would take a turn about the playpen, then cautiously let her 22 lbs. and 30" down to a sitting position, and once again examine the toys lying about her.

* * *

WHEN I FINISHED hanging up the diapers, I went into the kitchen to help Mother McA. From here I could watch Bridget through the screen door and she couldn't see me. As she intently examined a sea shell, I noticed how the sunlight falling on her fine, light brown hair changed its color to almost gold.

Megan laughed, and she looked over in the direction of the swing and smiled, showing her prominent two dimples.

Blue is Bridget's most becoming color, for even as her large, round eyes seemed to just match her pale blue sunsuit, they have that wonderful quality of appearing to be the exact shade of blue of whatever she is wearing. (Just in case you haven't gathered by this time that we all think that she is one of the prettiest little girls we know, let me simply say the family is in unanimous agreement on this point!)

EARLY IN THE AFTERNOON, "Doc," Bridget's Godmother, and her family came over for the birthday dinner. After nap time we cut the beautiful birthday cake and opened presents. Megan, of course, was far more interested in the proceedings than Bridget. As a matter of fact, she talked about Bridget's and her birthday for the entire preceding week.

Now, neither do I believe that you can happily explain to a three and a half year old that this is sister's birthday and not her's, nor could I disappoint her by not having some birthday presents for her.

So, as it turned out, Megan had almost as many presents as Bridget, and consequently was a very happy and contented little girl.

Among Bridget's presents were a new pair of white shoes, a darling little pink and white checked gingham sun dress and matching panties, a rubber doll, socks, several toys, and a heavenly blue organdy, lace-trimmed dress. I do hope the color movies that we took of Bridget's first birthday turn out well.

You know, Peg, when Megan was born, I wondered if we could ever again have a child so marvelously healthy in body and mind—then Bridget was born and I knew that we could. As I watched our little girls that day, I thought over and over to myself, "How does one thank God for such precious blessings as these?"

My love,

Patty.

Channel 11 Fund Drive Nears Halfway Mark

Achievement of the $800,000 goal needed to establish and maintain an educational, noncommercial television station for the Chicago area is fast becoming a reality.

To date, more than $350,000 has been contributed to the Channel 11 fund campaign, with $450,00 of the $800,000 still to be obtained.

Latest figures from fund campaign headquarters show the following suburban communities in this area with new totals reported since last week:

Arlington Heights	$1,072
Barrington	1,200
Fox River Grove	142
Prospect Heights	564

Contributions to the Channel 11 fund campaign may be made directly to the local community chairman or by mailing to:

Good Response

I cannot begin to say an adequate "thank you" for the promptness and magnificence with which you cooperated in polling your readers in their voting preferences on some of the many bills before Congress.

Already we have received a considerable response and seem confident that this effort to test public opinion will prove worthwhile.

Jamaica A Vacation Paradise

Entrance to Kingston Harbor is not easy. The ship certainly needed a pilot. There are many reefs.

June 7, 1692, a whole city, Port Royal, is said to have slid off the mountainside into the sea. A guide told us that it was punishment for the gambling and other immorality of that city. As far as we could see the gambling is still there. We do not know about the morality.

Boat passengers who had not spent all of their money in Trinidad, took part in a buying spree in Jamaica. They did not seem to realize that while the devalued pound cost so little in U.S. dollars, the store keepers had U.S. dollar prices at their finger tips.

The street vendors made some big profits getting Americans as they were returning to the ship, to exchange American money for English money. The fakirs were always in a hurry. This editor was one of the easy marks, giving a fakir a ten shilling note ($1.40) for four American quarters.

We found that our ship tourmaster was right when he suggested not to buy straw articles until we were returning to the ship as the prices dropped at the end of the day.

Jamacia will in our memory be an island of beauty. Perhaps there is not so much to admire in the city of Kingston proper, but a few minutes ride into its suburbs you find beautiful vegetation. A 5 to 15 minute daily rainfall does the trick.

There, for the first time, in all my Caribbean trip, except in compounds owned by oil companies, we found evidence of "vacation living." Some of the homes on the hillsides appeared to be as modern as in our home community. The two hour trip covered by us was in the hills.

On the main roads there are many "shopping centers," that were similar to those in other Caribbean countries. Goods offered for sale, however, were largely fruits and vegetables, the owners squatting down on the ground beside their wares.

Baskets were carried on heads, women doing most of the shopping in Jamaica as well as in Arlington Heights.

We came across a new industry, making of charcoal. Men were cutting the wood and burning it, then hauling it to market.

THE BEAUTY SPOT of all was the botanical garden, which was the gift of the "Hope Diamond" family.

There we found exotic flowers, never before viewed by us. Many of these flowers were on trees, but there were vast flower beds. If a visitor is tempted to snap a picture there seemed to always be some woman among the flowers who thought she was entitled to pay because she appeared in the picture.

The names of the majority of the flowers were unknown to us, but the presence of a tiny humming bird sitting on its nest was something we could understand. Its eggs are about the size of a radish seed.

JAMAICANS do not give credit to any saint because there are no snakes on the island. They boast their inhabited regions are free from snakes because of the mongoose, an animal about a foot long and as thick as a squirrel.

As we left Jamaica, we were on our way home. The boat stopped two hours at LaGuaira to pick up about 20 employees of the oil companies who were vacationing bound to the United States.

Next week — Was the trip worth while?

Bits O' Business

Housing starts in May were fewer than in April, the first time such a thing has happened since the war . . . Westinghouse Electric and its CIO workers joined in a demonstration against competing British machinery . . . An RFC loan kept the sheriff of Hennepin county, Minnestota, from foreclosing on an old folks' home . . . A Richmond, Vt., appliance dealer moved his store four blocks by freight train. He had four cars spotted on his siding, took his wares aboard, had the cars switched, and unloaded them.

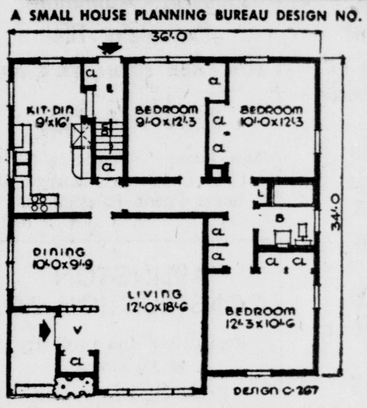

Civil Defense Funds

Counties and communities throughout Illinois will probably get almost twice as much in matching funds from the federal government to help defray the cost of their civil defense needs in the current fiscal year that ends June 30 as they did in the previous twelve months.

In the twelve months that ended June 30, 1952, the Federal Civil Defense Administration allocated $449,829 to local civil defense units in Illinois. The total for the fiscal year about to end will probably be $888,355.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-267

This attractive plan consists of a spacious living room with dining space, three good sized bedrooms, kitchen and bath. All bedrooms, the bath and the kitchen open off a rear hallway. Privacy is afforded by a vestibule entrance from the covered porch. There are ten closets, including a linen closet off the rear hall and a convenient coat closet off the vestibule. There is a full basement. The house is of frame construction with wide siding, asphalt shingle roofing and overhanging eaves. Floor area is 1,142 square feet.

Puffer Asks Former Teachers To 'Return To Job'

A large increase in enrollments, an acute shortage of teachers but adequate space in County schools outside Chicago for the 1953-54 school year, was predicted Thursday by Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools.

"We expect about 10,000 more students this fall—about the same increase as the 1952-53 school year," Puffer said. He attributed the increased enrollments to large real estate developments that have sprung up outside Chicago since the end of World War II. The moving trend has been away from Chicago into the suburbs, Puffer said.

The most serious problem facing county schools is the shortage of school teachers, he said. "Last year, the schools were short 77 teachers at the start of the school year but managed to fill up the vacancies in three months. The way things look now, there will be even more of a shortage when the fall term starts," he said.

Puffer said the number of teachers being trained did not nearly compensate for the number of children to be educated. He pointed out that persons with two years of college who are able to pass a test, are issued provisional certificates which entitle them to teach in county schools. He said the county school board has encouraged former teachers to come out of retirement and also persons with at least two years of college to apply for teaching positions.

He said the salaries paid by county schools are as high or higher as in the Chicago public schools and the educational requirements not as strict as in Chicago. A person must have at least a BA or BS degree to teach in Chicago schools.

Puffer was unable to estimate how many new schools would be needed in the county to accommodate students in the next few years or how much money will be required to bring all schools "up to snuff." He mentioned, however, that new high schools in Rich and Bremen townships were expected to open this fall and also new elementary schools in Park Forest, Mount Prospect and Barrington.

Can You Tell Me?

Why paint peels from north and east sides of house?

I would like to have your opinion as to the cause of this paint peeling. The roof of this residence is good and has not leaked for years. Paint is peeling off the north and east sides in large flakes, down to the bare wood. This house was painted six years ago.

When paint peels way down to the bare wood it is usually an indication that the original priming coat which was put on the wood is causing the trouble. When it lets go it is obvious that the paint on top must let go, too. We are unable to determine what is causing the priming coat to let go. It may be moisture, despite the fact that the roof has not leaked for years. Moisture can get in around defective flashings, around windows, and in many other places. If there is moisture present, better consult a builder, find out where the moisture is getting in, and see that the cause is remedied before any further painting is done.

A LOVELY TREE-SHADED BLVD.
Just what so many folks have been looking for! A spacious, high quality home, only ¾ blk. to our new Catholic church and school and almost as close to the depot and shopping center.
4 years old, all brick, very honestly built and just as fresh and clean as can be.
The large living rm. has an exceptionally nice bay picture window; the full sized separate dining rm. is adjoined by a screened porch that's "heaven" on these hot summer evenings.
The 3 bedrms. are unusually large. Forced air ht.; full bsmt.; 1½ car gar.; nicely landscaped yard.
We rate this as one of our finest values. See it today if at all possible.

S. O. S. ! !

The distress signal is up! Here is your opportunity to help yourself to a terrific bargain. The owner of this absolutely enchanting brk. ranch home must sell at once or forfeit a substantial deposit on home he is buying. Ideally situated, having 100 ft. frontage on one of the prettiest drives in Prospect Heights. Beautifully landscaped, it has both flower and vegetable gardens for your "green thumb" endeavors. A sparkling home thruout, you can move in without even dusting. Wait till you see its massive living rm., 23x13 with an expanse of windows 15 ft. long overlooking the grounds! 2 bedrooms; gas ht.; att. gar.; poss. right now. You won't believe it even after you see it but the price is only $15,800! Hurry, there isn't another like this anywhere!

This popularly styled home has a living room, separate dining room, corner bed room, ceramic tile bath and cabinet kitchen with breakfast area on the first floor; two lovely bedrooms and a full-sized bathroom have just been plastered on the second floor. There is a full basement with economical, gas-fired hot air heat. This fine home is located on a beautifully landscaped, 55 ft. lot with a generous sized gardening area at the rear. All this and it is only 3½ blocks from the Mt. Prospect railroad station. Truly a bargain. See it today.

New 3 Bedroom Ranch

This lovely new home has an exceptionally large living-dining room, work saving cabinet kitchen with corner breakfast area, 3 large bedrooms and a full basement. Near school, shopping and transportation. If you have been waiting for three bedrooms on one floor under $20,000, you must see this one immediately.

$18,700

Ill health forces owner to sell this 1½ year old, 2 bedroom face brick ranch, combination living and dining room with cozy wood burning fireplace. Beautiful carpeting and draperies included; and it also has work saving cabinet kitchen with dishmaster and breakfast area; 2 corner bedrooms and tile bath. A large enclosed heated breezeway leads to a 2-car insulated, brick garage. Ill-health of owner forces him to sacrifice this lovely home at this amazingly low price.

Trucks and Buses Pay Share of Road Repairs

Highway department reports reveal that Illinois trucks and buses, even before the present high license fees became effective, paid 59 per cent of highway construction and maintenance costs incurred by the state, counties and cities.

Of $62,444,383 spent for highway construction and maintenance, Illinois trucks and buses paid $36,949,723 or 59 per cent.

License and gas tax payments by a large truck amount to as much as 40 times the payments made by the average passenger automobile according to the booklet.

The average automobile in Illinois pay $39.87 in license fees and gas taxes, while the biggest trucks pay on the average of $1,563.30 annually in license fees and gas taxes.

The Illinois trucking industry provides jobs for 579,688 persons, the book discloses, with an annual payroll of more than $2.3 billion dollars. Total investment in Illinois trucks amounts to more than $461,000,000 according to the study.

KAMERA KORNER

In the weeks ahead there'll be many opportunities for color-order pictures of Fourth of July and vacation trips. Even though you are using a camera for almost the first time, don't feel that you must limit your pictures to black and white, says Don Mohler, General Electric photographic specialist.

Almost all cameras are, or can be equipped with simple flash attachments that will help get amazing results with color film on many a first try.

When taking color pictures of your next party, don't take anything for granted. First of all, become thoroughly acquainted with your camera. Then, simply follow the instructions that come with the film. If you have any doubt about the correct type of flash bulb to use, check with the clerk to make sure you have the right bulbs for the film you are using.

One of the best ways to successful pictures, advised Mr. Mohler, is to plan in advance the best spots from which to shoot your pictures.

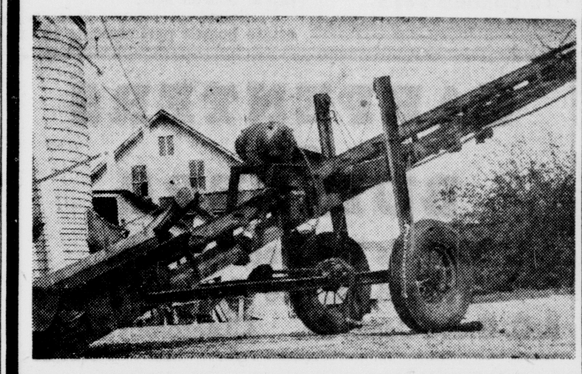

Another tip to remember is that when using color film, try to get subjects against plain backgrounds. This will help eliminate items that do not add to the background. Best of all, it will eliminate that dark appearance that comes from too much distance between subject and background.

HOME modernizing

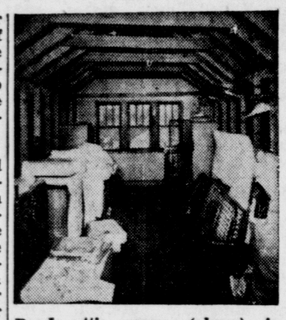

Attic Is Often The Answer To Home Space Problems

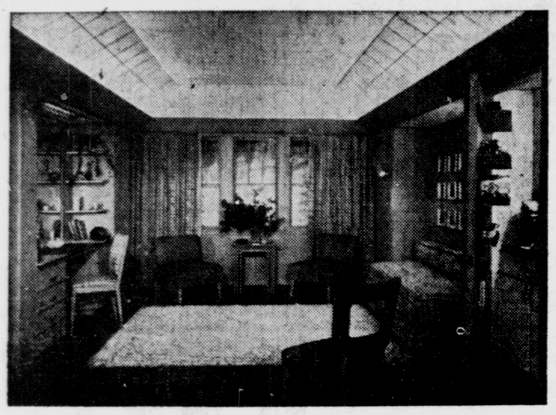

Unfinished attics are the answer to space problems in millions of older homes, according to Home Modernizing magazine. Transforming waste attic space into useful rooms is a job that the homeowner can do largely by himself.

Here are suggestions:

Leave plumbing, wiring and heating changes to experts. Insulate, if that has not already been done, to cut down on heating difficulties. Consider what function the "new" space is to take over. The attic is a natural for added bedrooms, but it can just as well be a play area or den, a hobby room or studio, a bedroom-playroom for the children, even a complete apartment.

Make sure the area has adequate windows. Put them in end walls or install dormers.

Dead attic space (above) is brought to life (below). Finishing an attic can be done by the homeowner himself.

See Stable Home Prices Rest of '53

Recent market reports indicate the next six months will provide a favorable time to buy a home, the national association of real estate boards said.

Predominant reports from real estate boards participating in the survey predict that with steadying production costs, the price of new homes will remain stable during the second half of 1953.

Shortage factors have been generally eliminated from the market through private industry's giant production record of more than seven million new homes since the end of World War II. This is not only bringing stability in costs for newly-constructed homes, but it is squeezing out inflationary prices for existing homes. Unrealistic high prices for existing homes have been disappearing during the last six months.

New 'Package' Insurance Now for Home Owners

A modern innovation in property insurance—the homeowners policy is being offered in Illinois by local insurance agents and brokers.

The homeowners policy was developed originally by Insurance company of North America and its affiliated companies and has been accepted with acclaim in several other states where it was first tested.

The homeowners policy is a "package" of essential protections for home owners previously provided in four separate policies. It includes coverage against fire, windstrom, explosion and many other perils on the home, the same coverage on the household and personal possessions, plus insurance against theft (which includes burglary or robbery) and comprehensive liability coverage against damage suits.

Musicologist

Curt Sachs, world-famous musicologist, will deliver two public lectures on music and art through the ages as part of the Northwestern university school of music's summer program. His first talk will be at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 1, in Lutkin hall.

Points to Check Before Buying To Remodel

This is the season when Americans with plenty of ambition and a limited amount of money go house-hunting.

Their objective — to find an older home that can be remodeled piece meal, as the budget permits.

Since modernization often starts on the outside, the Insulating Siding Association offers some hints for checking acceptability of the home exterior. In 1952 alone, more than 250,000 homes were modernized with insulating siding, so there's plenty of experience back of this advice.

PLUMBNESS— Place yourself at the corner of the house and sight along the walls. You may see bulges or bends that are not noticeable in the normal approach to the house. Don't worry too much about a few loose boards. They can be easily fixed. But pronounced bulges or bends may indicate serious structural defects.

Foundation line — If possible, put a level along the line where siding meets the foundation. Remember that the new siding you install will be level. If the house isn't level on the foundation now, the fault will be more noticeable after the siding is installed.

WINDOW SILLS — The same reasoning applies as with the foundation line. A window that isn't square with the rest of the house poses a major remodeling problem.

Leaks behind siding — Streaks of dirt running from beneath clapboard or shingle siding may indicate leaks behind the siding, or excess condensation. It's what you can't see that needs checking. Moisture may have caused serious decay that is not visible.

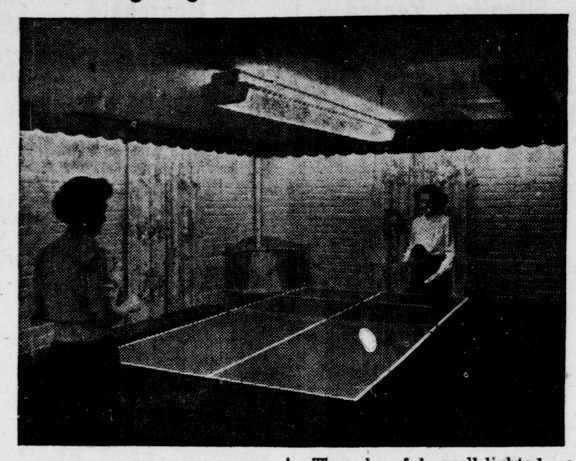

Peeling Paint—It's customary for paint to chalk or powder. But blistering or flaking may indicate excess moisture in the walls. Covering up this trouble won't solve it. Check further in the basement for other signs of excess moisture — mildew, rotting timbers, leaking basement walls.

ORNATE TRIM—The trend in modern building is definitely toward simple, straight lines. You expect to find ornate trim in an older home. Much of it must be removed. In your survey, note how much there is and whether it can be removed without affecting the basic structure of the house.

Other obvious check points include the condition of the roof, the glazing on the windows, flashing around the chimney (whether it's in good condition and made of copper or galvanized metal), the eaves and gutters, and the materials used in screens and storm windows.

Cheerful Lighting Needed In Recreation Room

The cheerful, well-lighted recreation room pictured above is a far cry from the dark cellars of grandmother's day. No one minds being confined indoors by a summer storm when the basement play area is bright and cheerful.

The softly lighted walls are easy enough to duplicate that you may want to try them on your own recreation room. Long lines of fluorescent light, complete with channel, are fastened behind the decorative scalloped valance just below the ceiling line. Notice how the light washes down the walls which were painted with a soft pastel water paint.

Plenty of light for a fast game of table tennis is provided by the ceiling fixture which has two eight-foot slimline fluorescent lamps.

Shopping Column

This compact, new easy-to-use spotlight is one you'll want packed away in your glove compartment before you start off for vacation.

This hand set, less than half a dozen inches across is power supplied by a 12-foot cord attached to a spring tension connector which plugs into the cigarette lighter-socket.

This powerful but easy to handle spotlight has a beam equal to a five-cell flashlight.

In addition to serving as a regular spotlight the light is also handy for picking out road signs or house numbers, on the spot motor repairs, as a signal light or an emergency driving light.

The 12-foot cord compactly winds around the reflector which also serves as a built-in spool. The motorist may rest the light on the ground, hang it by its suspension hook or use it as a hand light.

A G-E PR-12 6-volt prefocused bulb and high efficiency reflector provide a strong concentrated beam with no dead spot in the center. Both reflector and bulb are protected by a nonbreakable lens. Look for it at your favorite auto accessory counter for about two dollars.

Set all things in their own peculiar place, and know that order is the greatest grace.
—Dryden

Here's 'Cutie' Idea: Neat Earring Rack Made of Presdwood

An earring rack which keeps one's assortment in view for easy selection can be made in the home workshop. Each is attached with its own fastener, so it won't become lost.

For the base of the rack, take a piece of Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-eighth inch thick, six inches wide and eight inches long. Round the corners and bevel the front edges with a file.

Obtain some "parting strip" at a lumber yard. This is lumber which is about one-eighth inch thick and one-half inch wide. It will be attached to the Tempered Presdwood to form three or four "shelves" across the long way of the panel. Fasten them with water-proof glue, or with brads applied from the back of the panel.

Prime and enamel the earring rack, which may be hung on the wall like a picture. It can be placed on a dresser, too, by hinging a Presdwood leg to the back with leather or tape.

Soften Brushes

Old, stiff paint brushes can be softened by boiling them in vinegar for about ten minutes.

Built-Ins Useful And Beautiful

Modern built-in cabinets and other storage units are both useful and attractive, says Home Maintenance and Improvement magazine. Shown above is a storage wall in a bedroom. It provides overhead cabinets for hats and general storage; closets for suits, dresses and coats, and drawers for other clothing and linens. The symmetrical grouping adds a definite decorative touch to the room.

Preserving Trees On Home Sites Pays Big Returns

A tree on the home grounds is like money in the bank.

Besides providing shade and beauty, trees are valuable assets from a dollar-and-cents standpoint.

Realizing how much trees add to property, one of the largest mass producers of homes in the East takes great pains to make certain there are trees on every one of his building sites.

And builders in the mid-West and South report that home buyers are paying from $100 to $800 more for each tree on their plot.

These architects and housing development builders are in business to make a profit, naturally. And trees are helping them.

But the individual home builder, planning a house for his family's future, all too often allows valuable trees to be cut down or badly damaged in the construction process, according to Davey tree experts.

Then, when the trees are gone, the home owner finds his property value has dropped and he has lost the arboreal beauty which made him select his plot in the first place.
